

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

EMILIA

You will need:

1 8x12 piece of red craft felt
1 8x12 piece of blue craft felt
Thread
Sewing needle
Stuffing

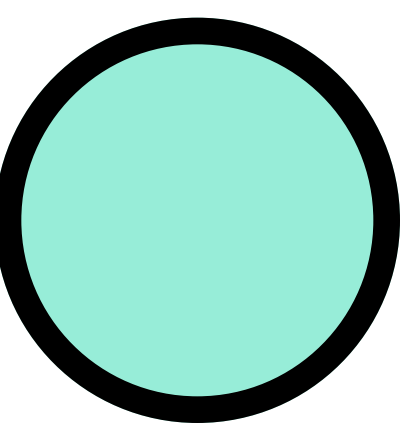

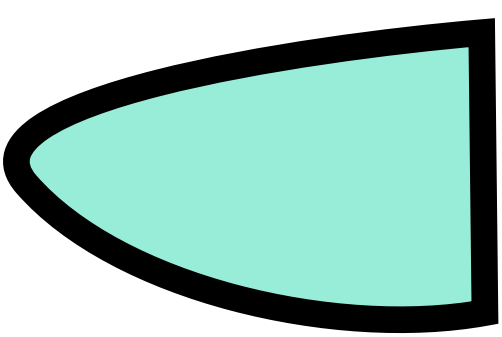

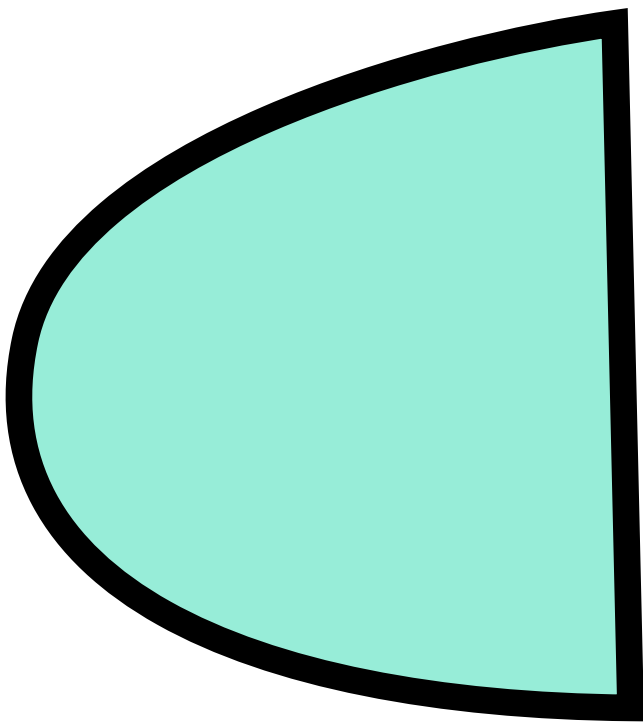

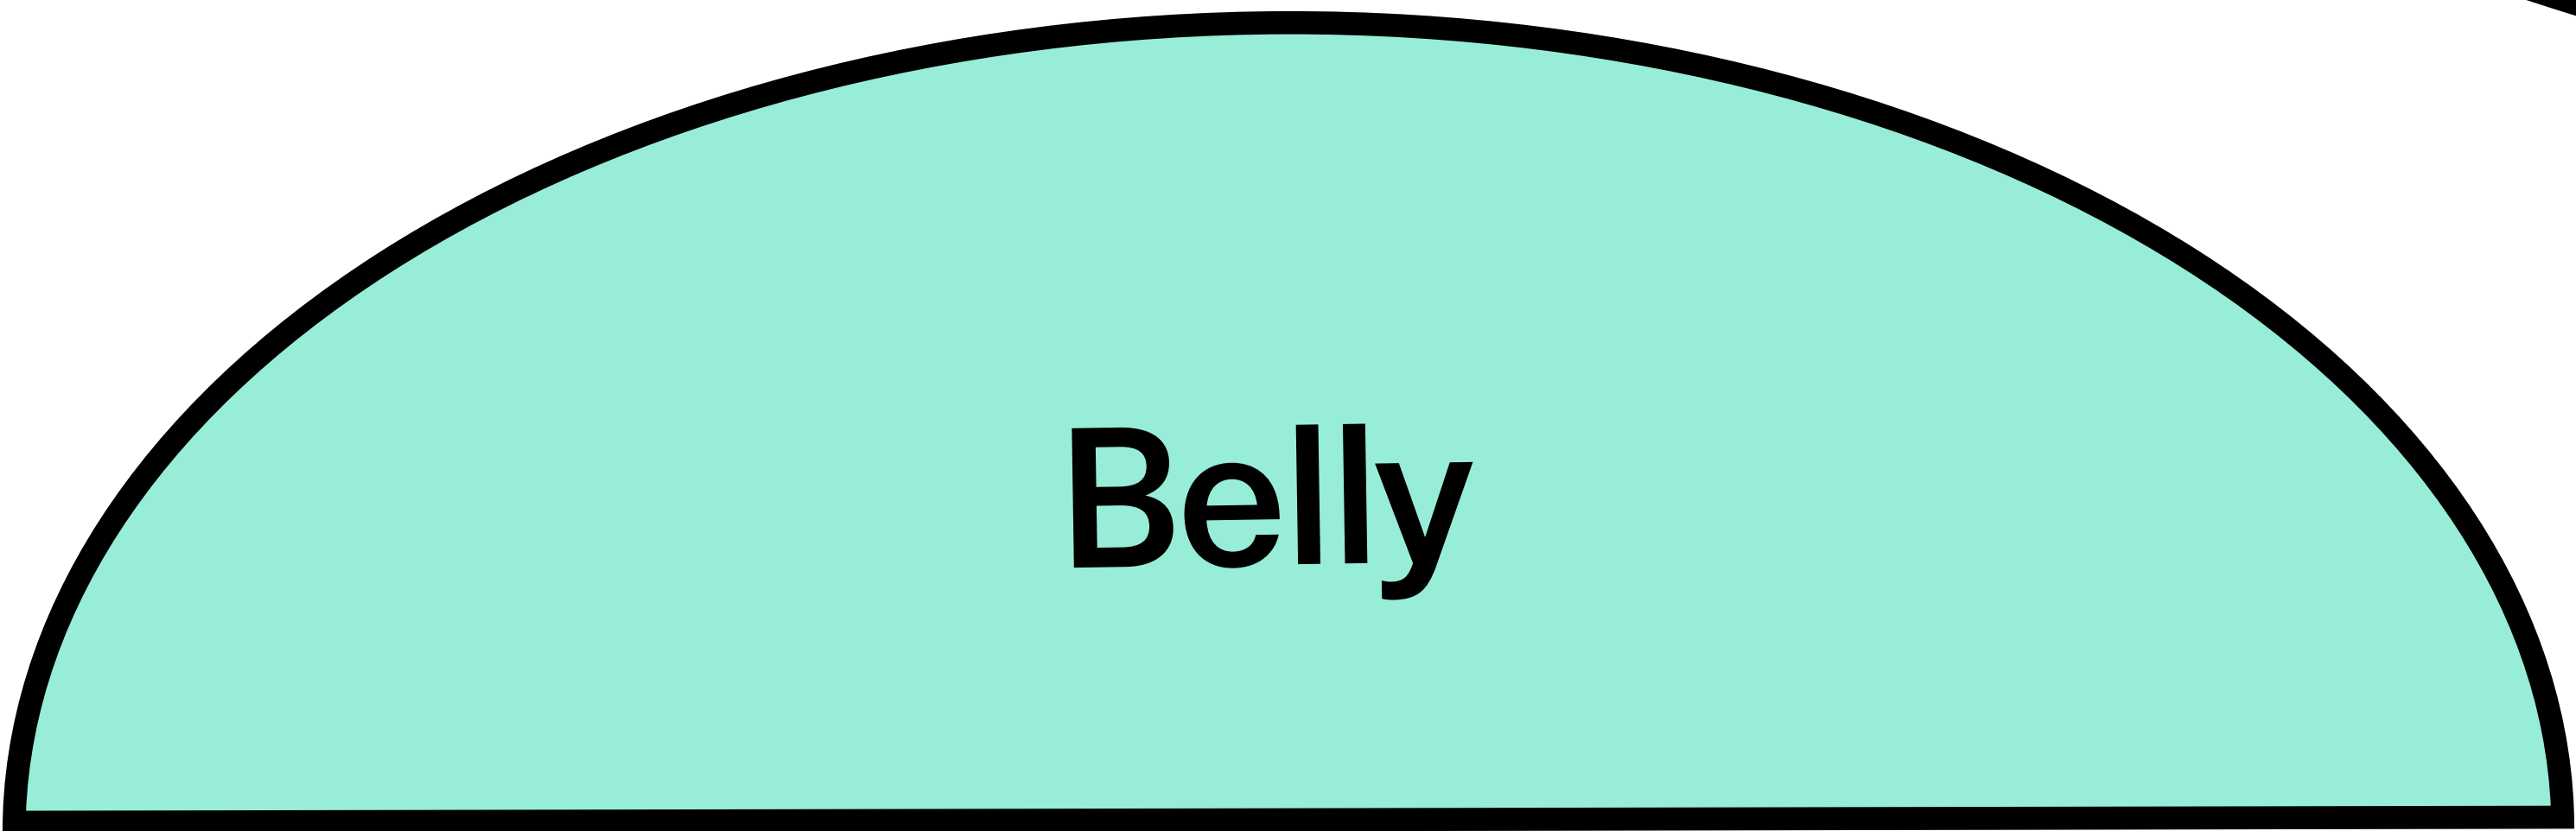

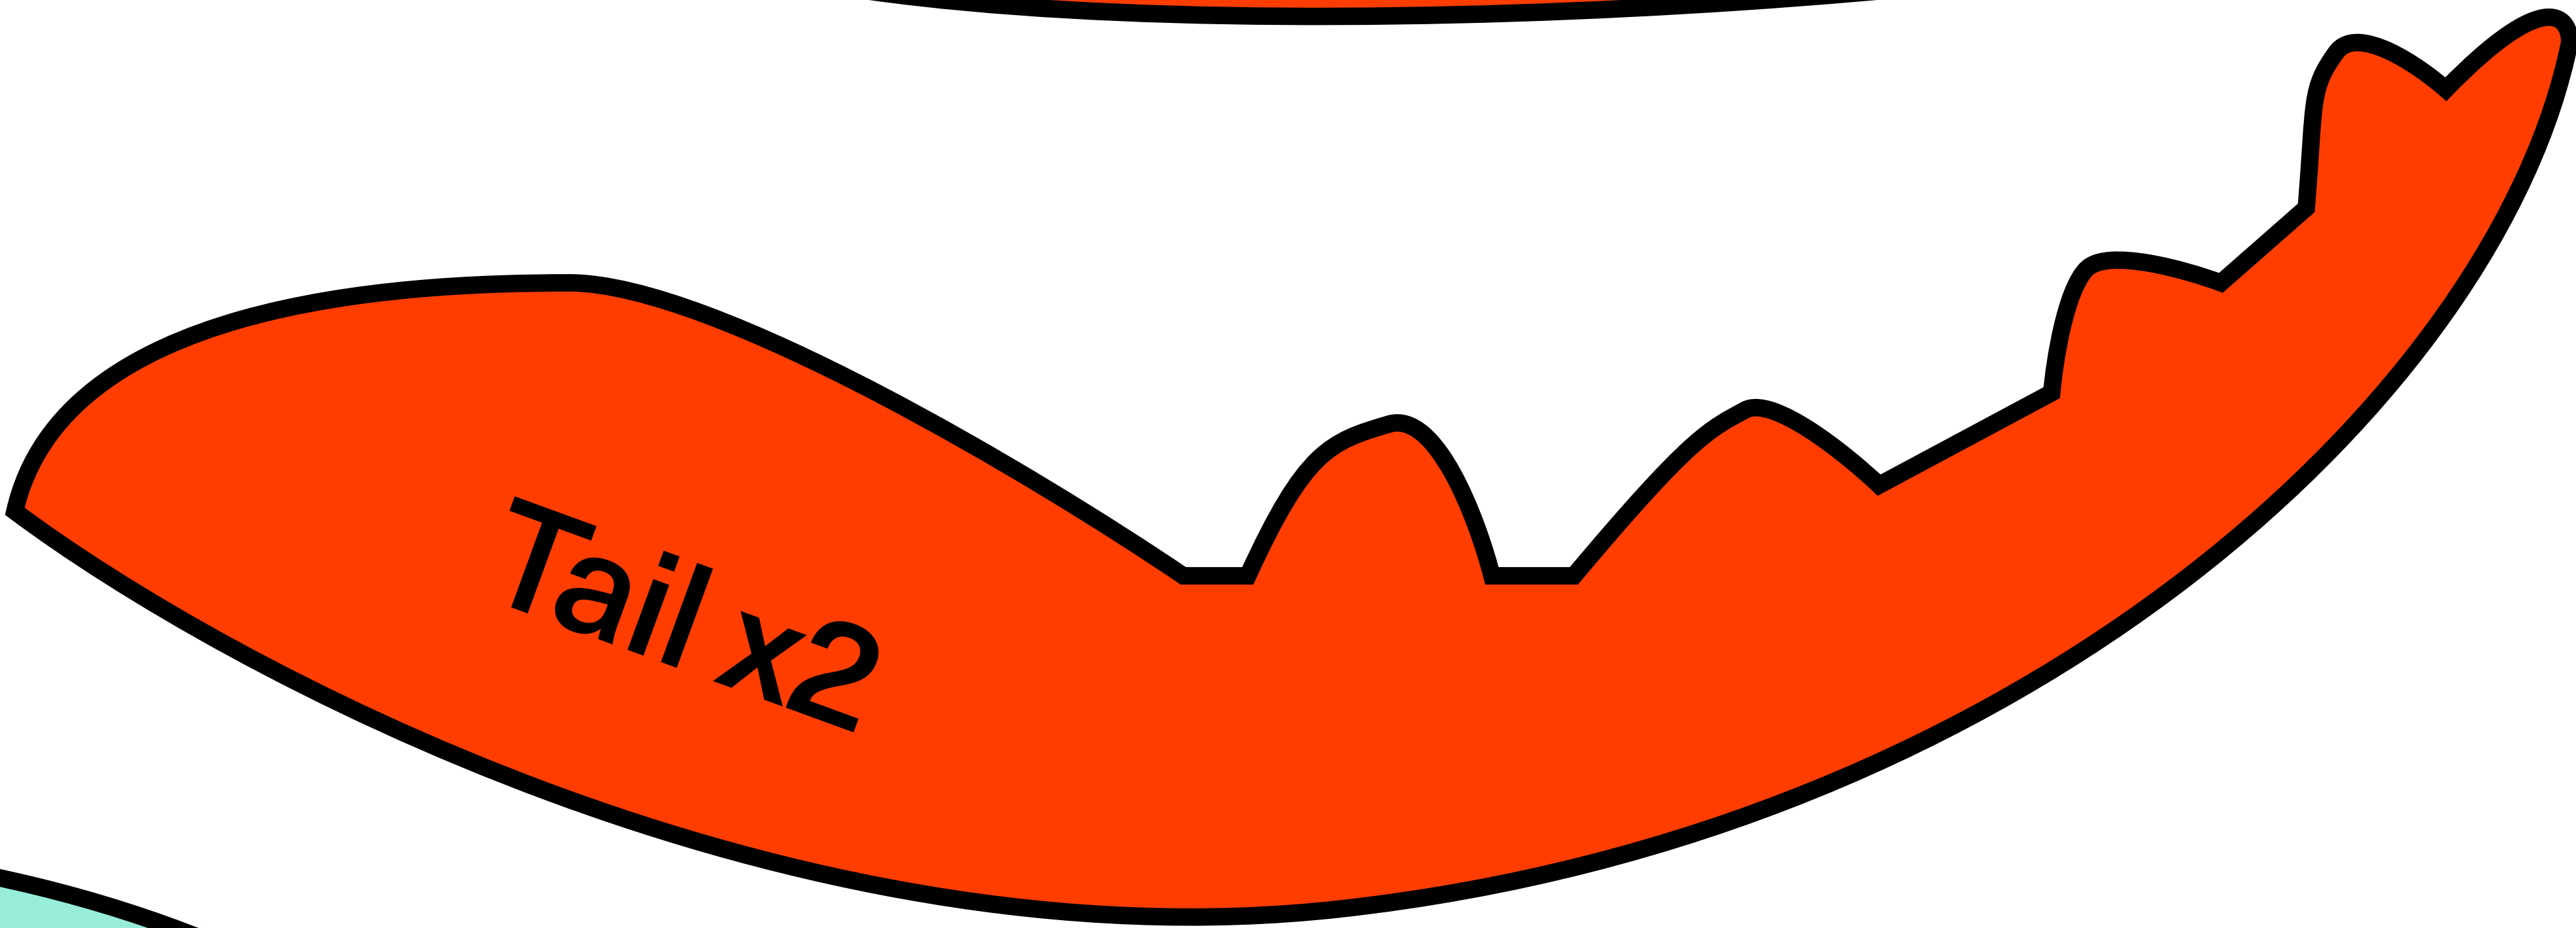

1. Trace your pattern pieces with a marker, pen, or chalk onto an 8x12 sheet of craft felt. Each pattern piece will need to be traced twice, so there should be a front and a back for each. Emilia has spots, spikes, and a half-moon for her belly, so make sure you have a bit of fabric in a second color to cut out the extra shapes.
2. Face the two sides of each pattern piece together and sew along the edge with a whip stitch, going through both pieces of felt and around the edge back to the side you started on. Here's a handy tutorial!
funclothcrafts.com/all-posts/how-to-whipstitch

Continue this stitch all the way around the pattern piece. If you want to stuff your dinosaur, be sure to leave a 1-to-2-inch gap before sewing the pattern piece closed. Tie your thread in a knot and snip the remaining thread. Repeat this for each pattern piece. You should end up with a head, torso, tail, and 4 legs.
3. Before attaching the pieces, sew all the markings on your dinosaur. These pieces are called “appliques.” Emilia has 13 spikes, 3 on her head, 6 on her back, and 4 on her tail. She also has 3 spots on her back, 2 toes on each foot (8 in total) and a half-moon for her belly. Cut 26 triangles, 6 spots, and 1 half-moon out of your second color of felt. Emilia only has her belly on one side of her body. Sew Emilia’s spots, spikes, toes, and belly on the pattern pieces with the same stitch you used to sew your pattern pieces together, following along the edge of the applique. For her belly, sew over top the applique, only passing the needle through the fabric above and below the half-moon shape. This will give her belly its stripes!
4. Once every head, torso, tail, and leg has been sewn and stuffed you’ll stitch the pieces together with an “X.” Start on the backside of the piece you’re attaching to the other, making sure the knot sits between the two pieces. Pass the needle back and forth a few times through both pattern pieces, making a nice solid dash to form the first half of the “X.” Now sew another dash, making sure to cross the first dash, creating an “X.” Just like you started between the two pattern pieces, you’ll want to tie the finishing knot the same way, between the two pieces so it is hidden. Once the knot is tied, snip off the extra thread.
5. Our dino is almost complete, but Emilia needs to see! The last step is to sew her an eye by using the same whip stitch as before only really small. Same as the appliques, decide if Emilia should have one eye on one side or one on both sides of her head. For both sides, sew back and forth through her head until there is a small black dot on each side. For an eye on only one side, sew back and forth only through the front piece of the head until a small dot has formed. Once she has an eye she’s all done!

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

EMILIA

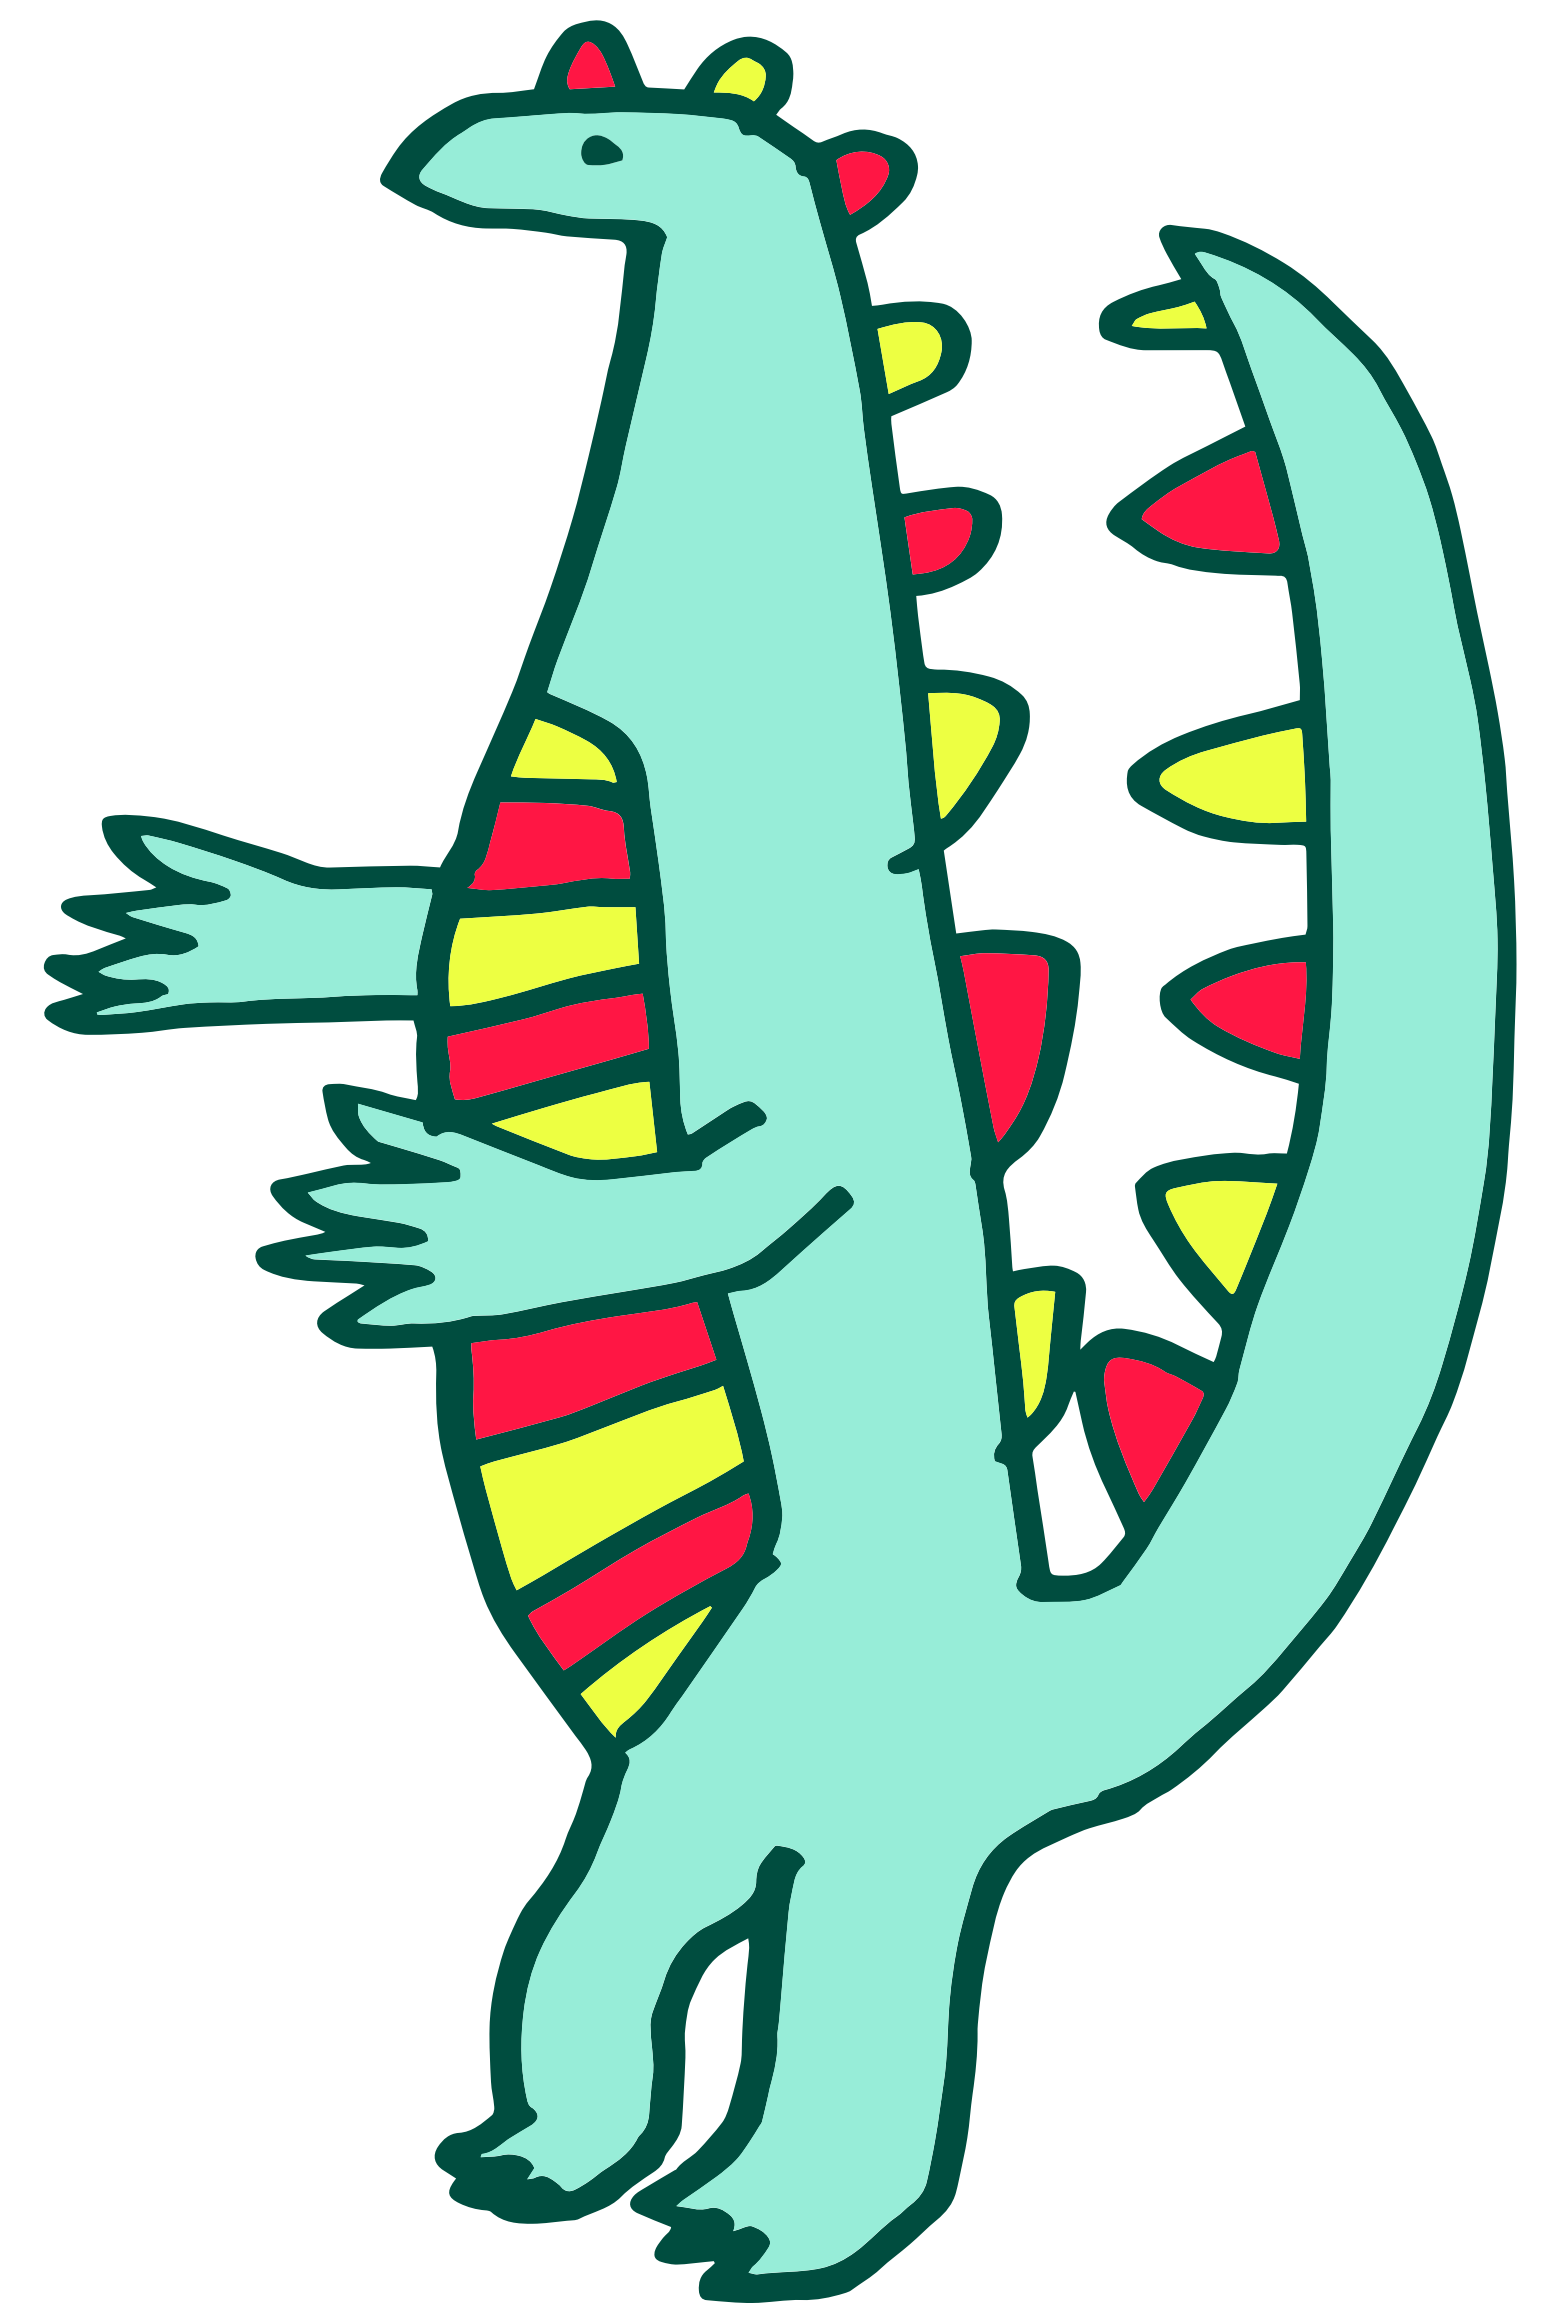

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

FRANKIE

You will need:

1 8x12 piece of pink craft felt	Thread
1 8x12 piece of green craft felt	Sewing needle
1 8x12 piece of yellow craft felt	Stuffing

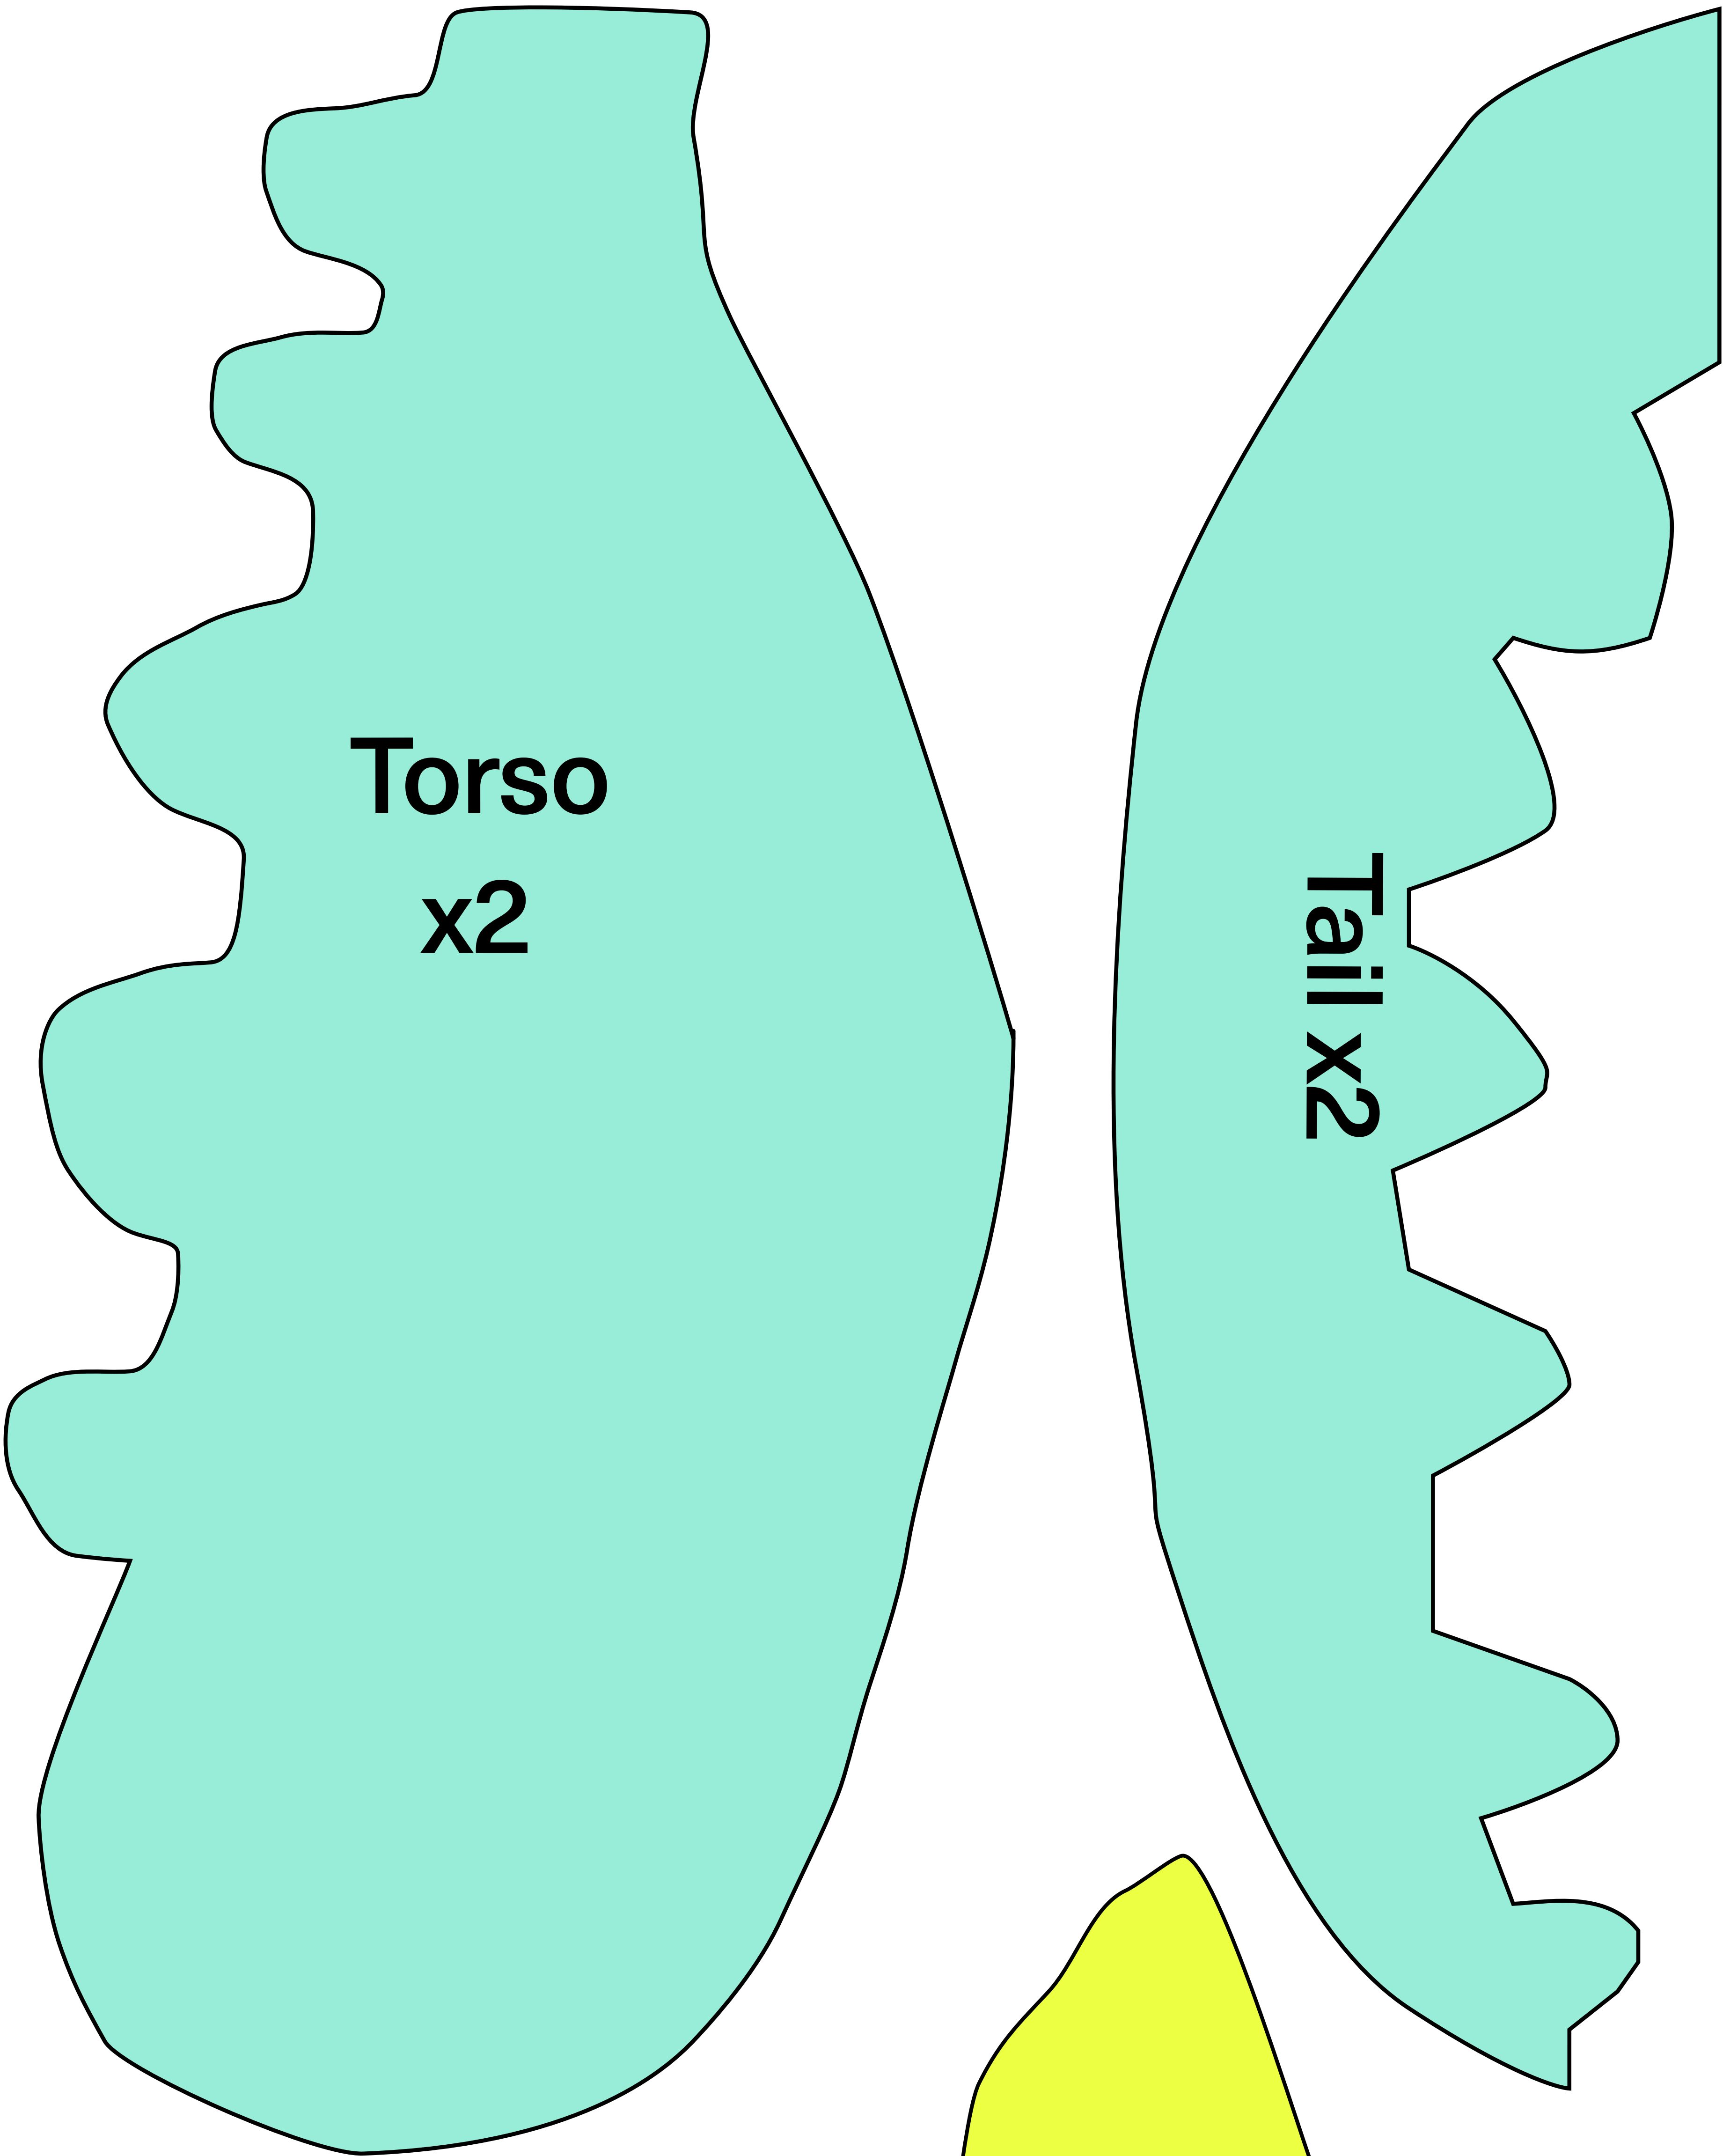

1. Trace your pattern pieces with a marker, pen, or chalk onto an 8x12 sheet of craft felt. Each pattern piece will need to be traced twice, so there should be a front and a back for each. Frankie's arms will need to be traced 4 times. Frankie has spikes and stripes, so make sure you have a bit of fabric in a second and third color to cut out the extra shapes.
2. Face the two sides of each pattern piece together and sew along the edge with a whip stitch, going through both pieces of felt and around the edge back to the side you started on. Here's a handy tutorial!
<https://www.funclothingcrafts.com/all-posts/how-to-whipstitch>

Continue this stitch all the way around the pattern piece. If you want to stuff your dinosaur, be sure to leave a 1-to-2-inch gap before sewing the pattern piece closed. Tie your thread in a knot and snip the remaining thread. Repeat this for each pattern piece. You should end up with a head, torso, tail, 2 arms, and 2 legs.

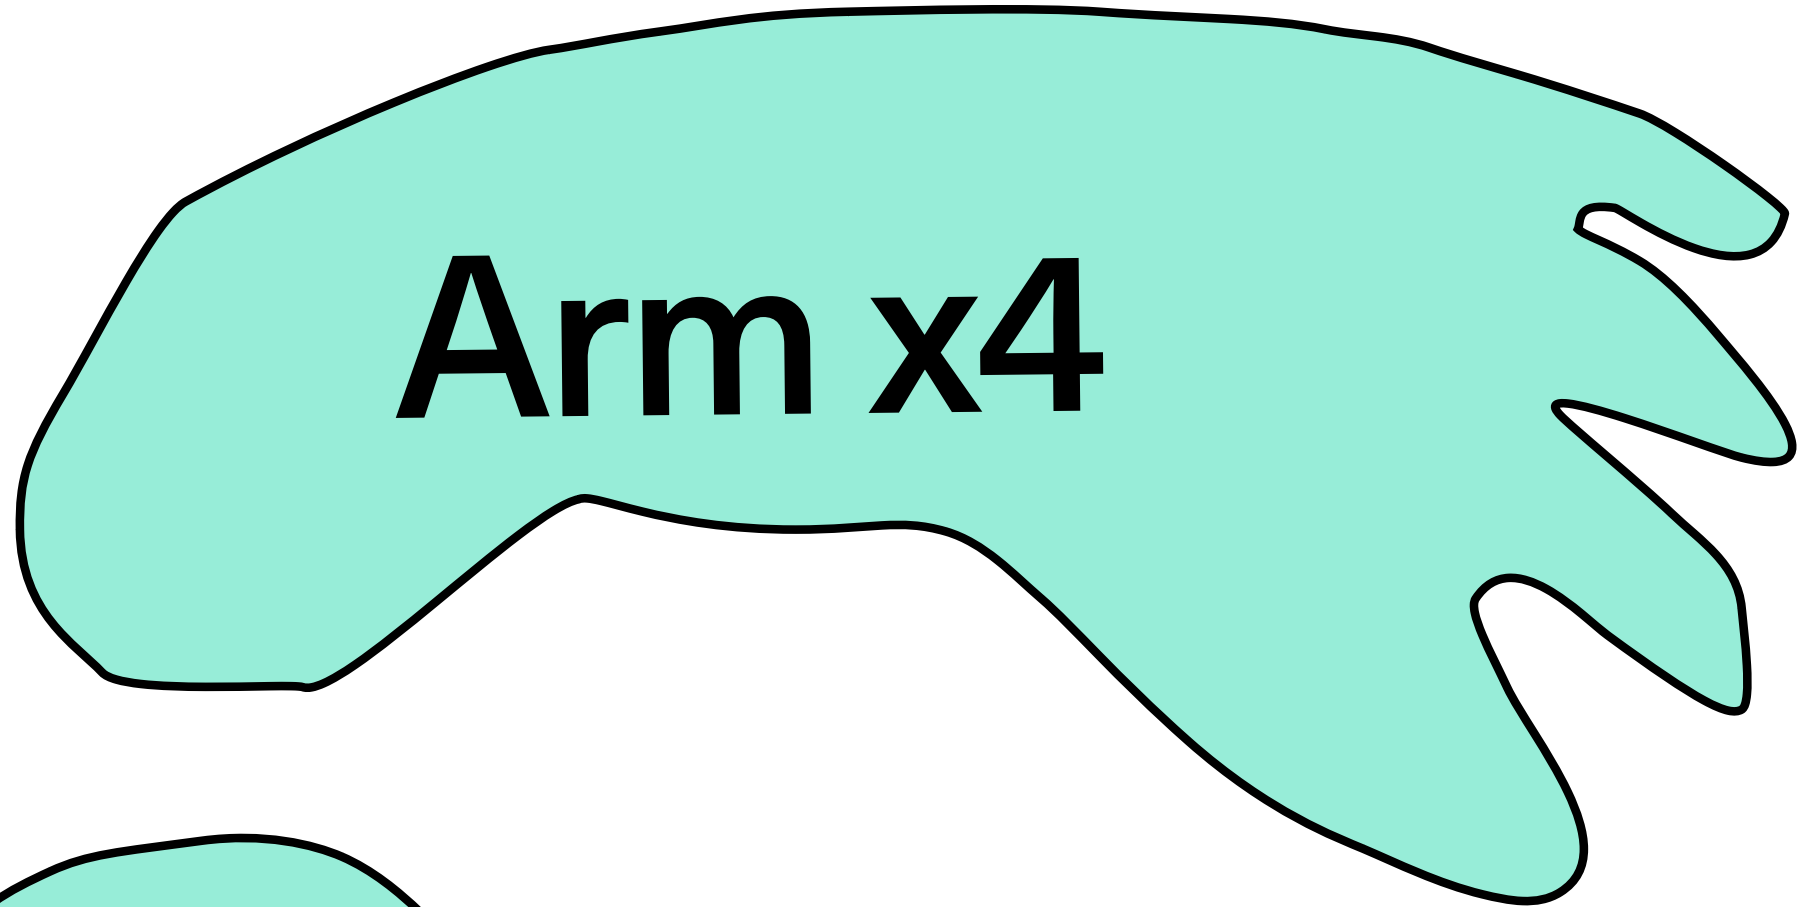

3. Before attaching the pieces together, sew all the markings on your dinosaur. These pieces are called "appliques." Frankie has 14 spikes: 3 on his head, 5 on his back, and 6 on his tail. He also has a belly with stripes. Cut 28 triangles- 14 out of your second color of felt and 14 from the third color of felt. Frankie's stripes will be cut from the second piece of felt and his belly will be cut from the third. Sew Frankie's spikes onto the pattern pieces with the same stitch you used to sew your pattern pieces together, following along the edge of the applique.
4. Frankie's belly is on both sides of his body so make sure to cut 2 of those out of the third color of felt. The stripes for his belly will be cut from the second color felt. Sew the stripes onto the belly pattern piece and repeat for both halves. Once you have the stripes sewn on, sew ONLY the front curve of the two belly pattern pieces together using your whip stitch. The two pattern pieces should look like a hotdog bun. Imagine Frankie's torso is the hotdog. Place his torso into the hotdog bun belly and sew around the edge of the rest of the pattern piece until his belly is snug to his torso.
5. Once every head, torso, tail, arm, and leg has been sewn and stuffed you'll stitch the pieces together with an "X." Start on the backside of the piece you're attaching to the other, making sure the knot sits between the two pieces. Pass the needle back and forth a few times through both pattern pieces, making a nice solid dash to form the first half of the "X." Now sew another dash, making sure to cross the first dash, creating an "X." Just like you started between the two pattern pieces, you'll want to tie the finishing knot the same way, between the two pieces so it is hidden. Once the knot is tied, snip off the extra thread.
6. Our dino is almost complete, but Frankie needs to see! The last step is to sew him an eye by using the same whip stitch as before only really small. Same as the appliques, decide if Frankie should have one eye on one side or one on both sides of his head. For both sides, sew back and forth through his head until there is a small black dot on each side. For an eye on only one side, sew back and forth only through the front piece of the head until a small dot has formed. Once he has his eye he's all done!

FRANKIE

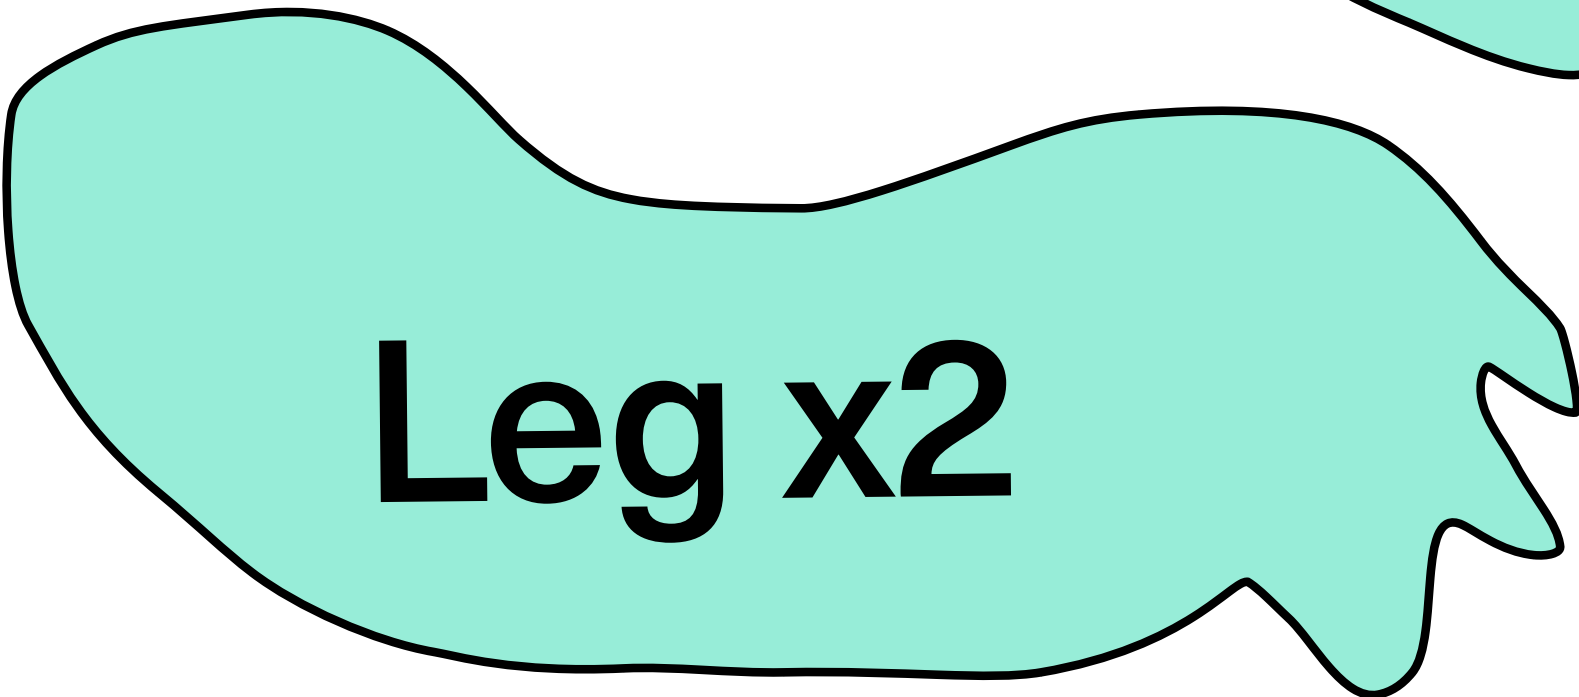

Torso
x2

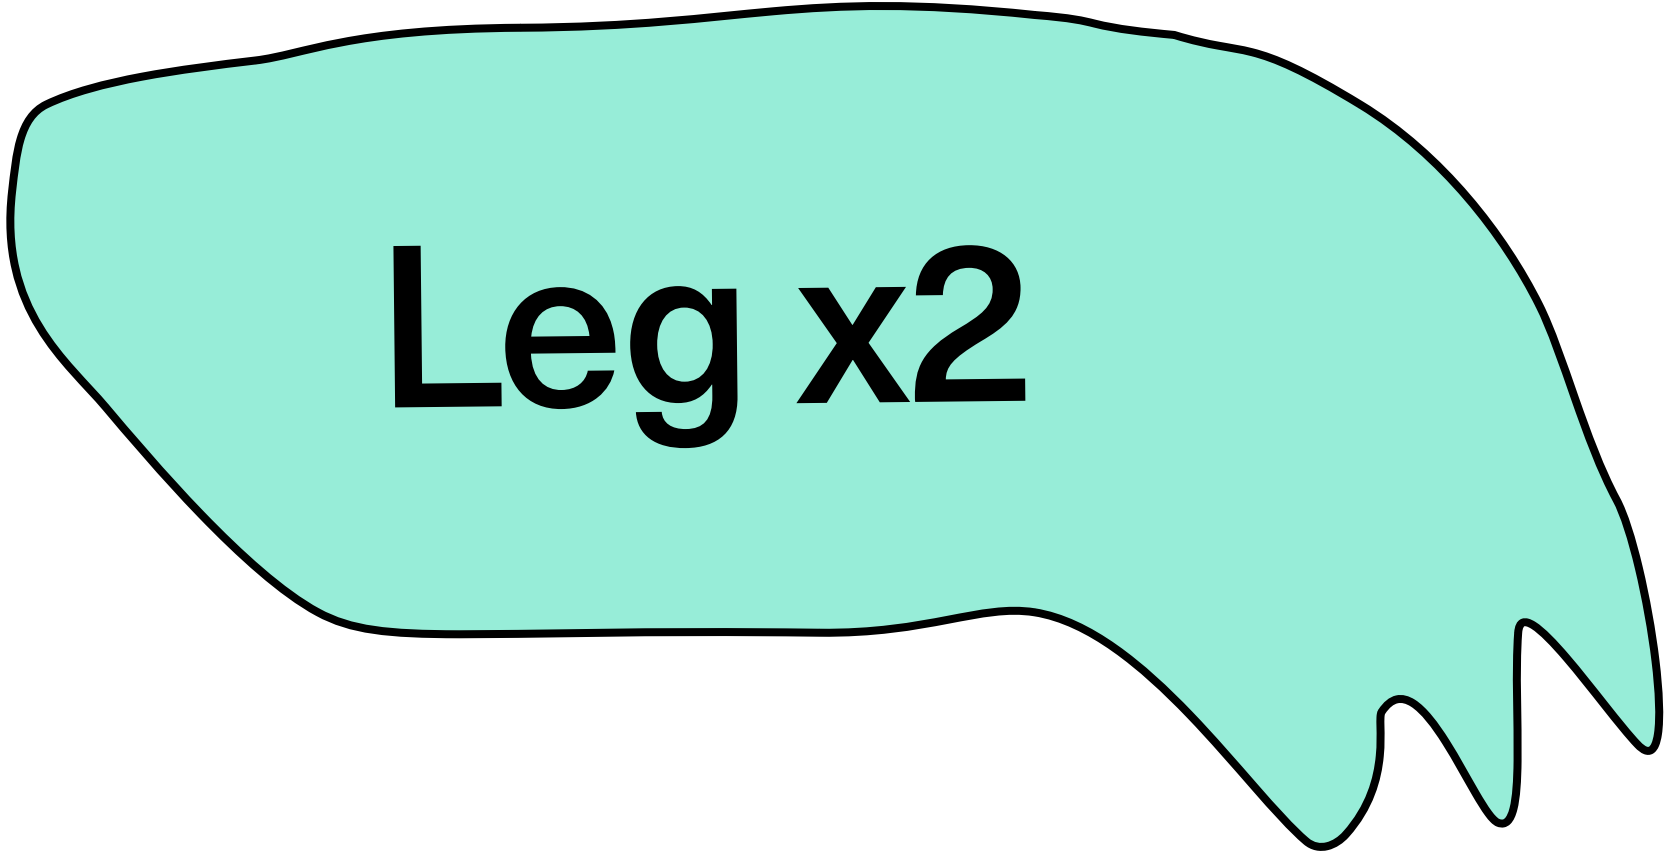

Tail x2

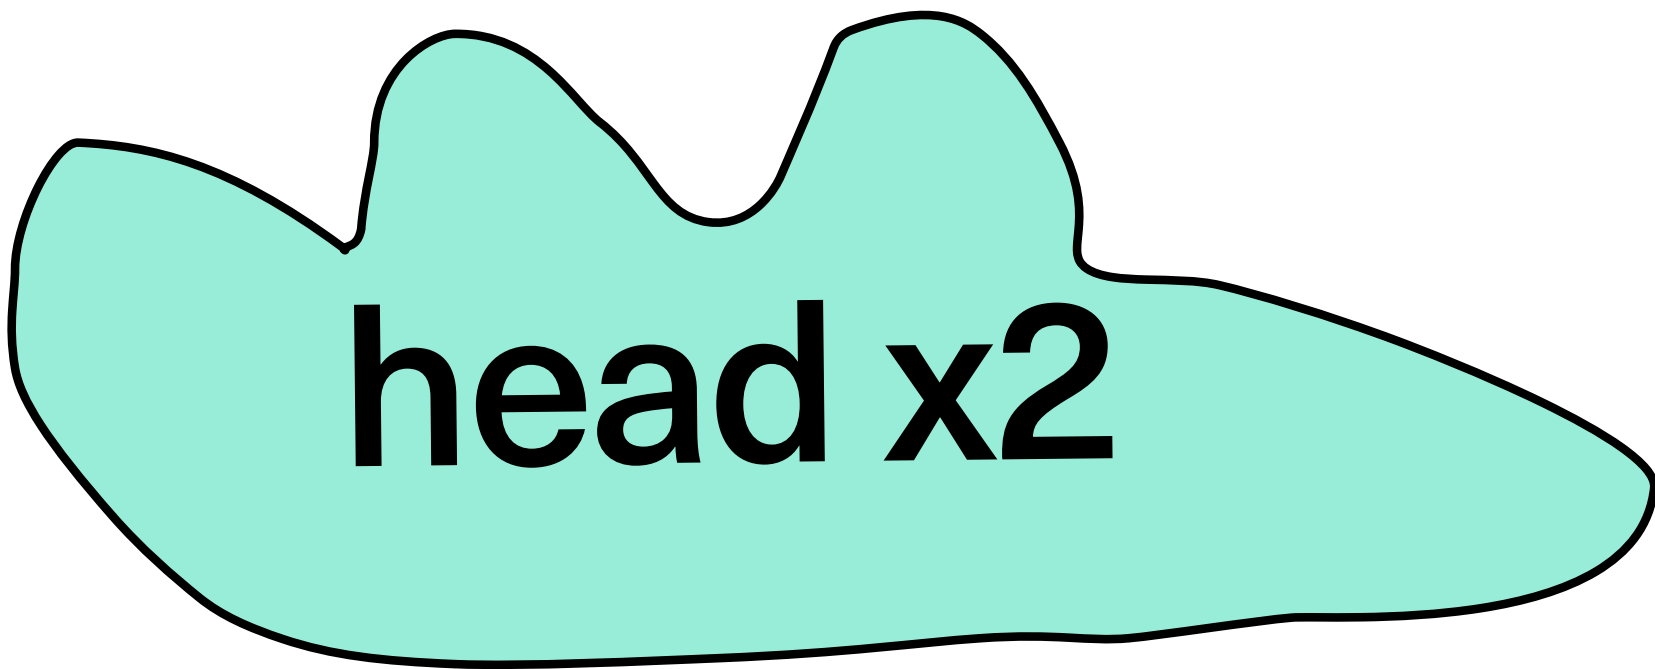

Arm x4

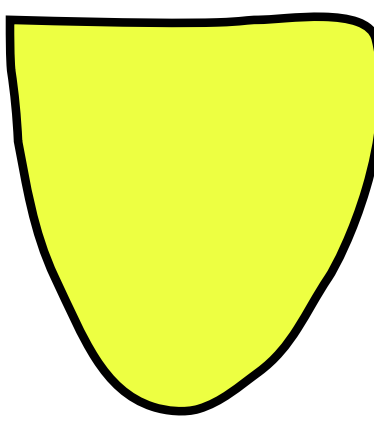

Leg x2

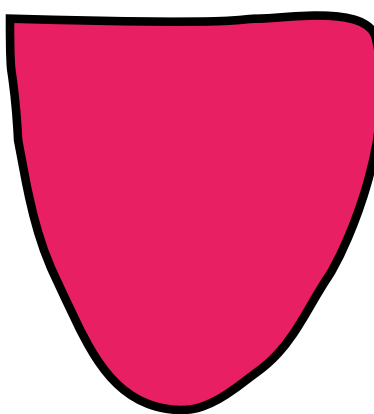

Leg x2

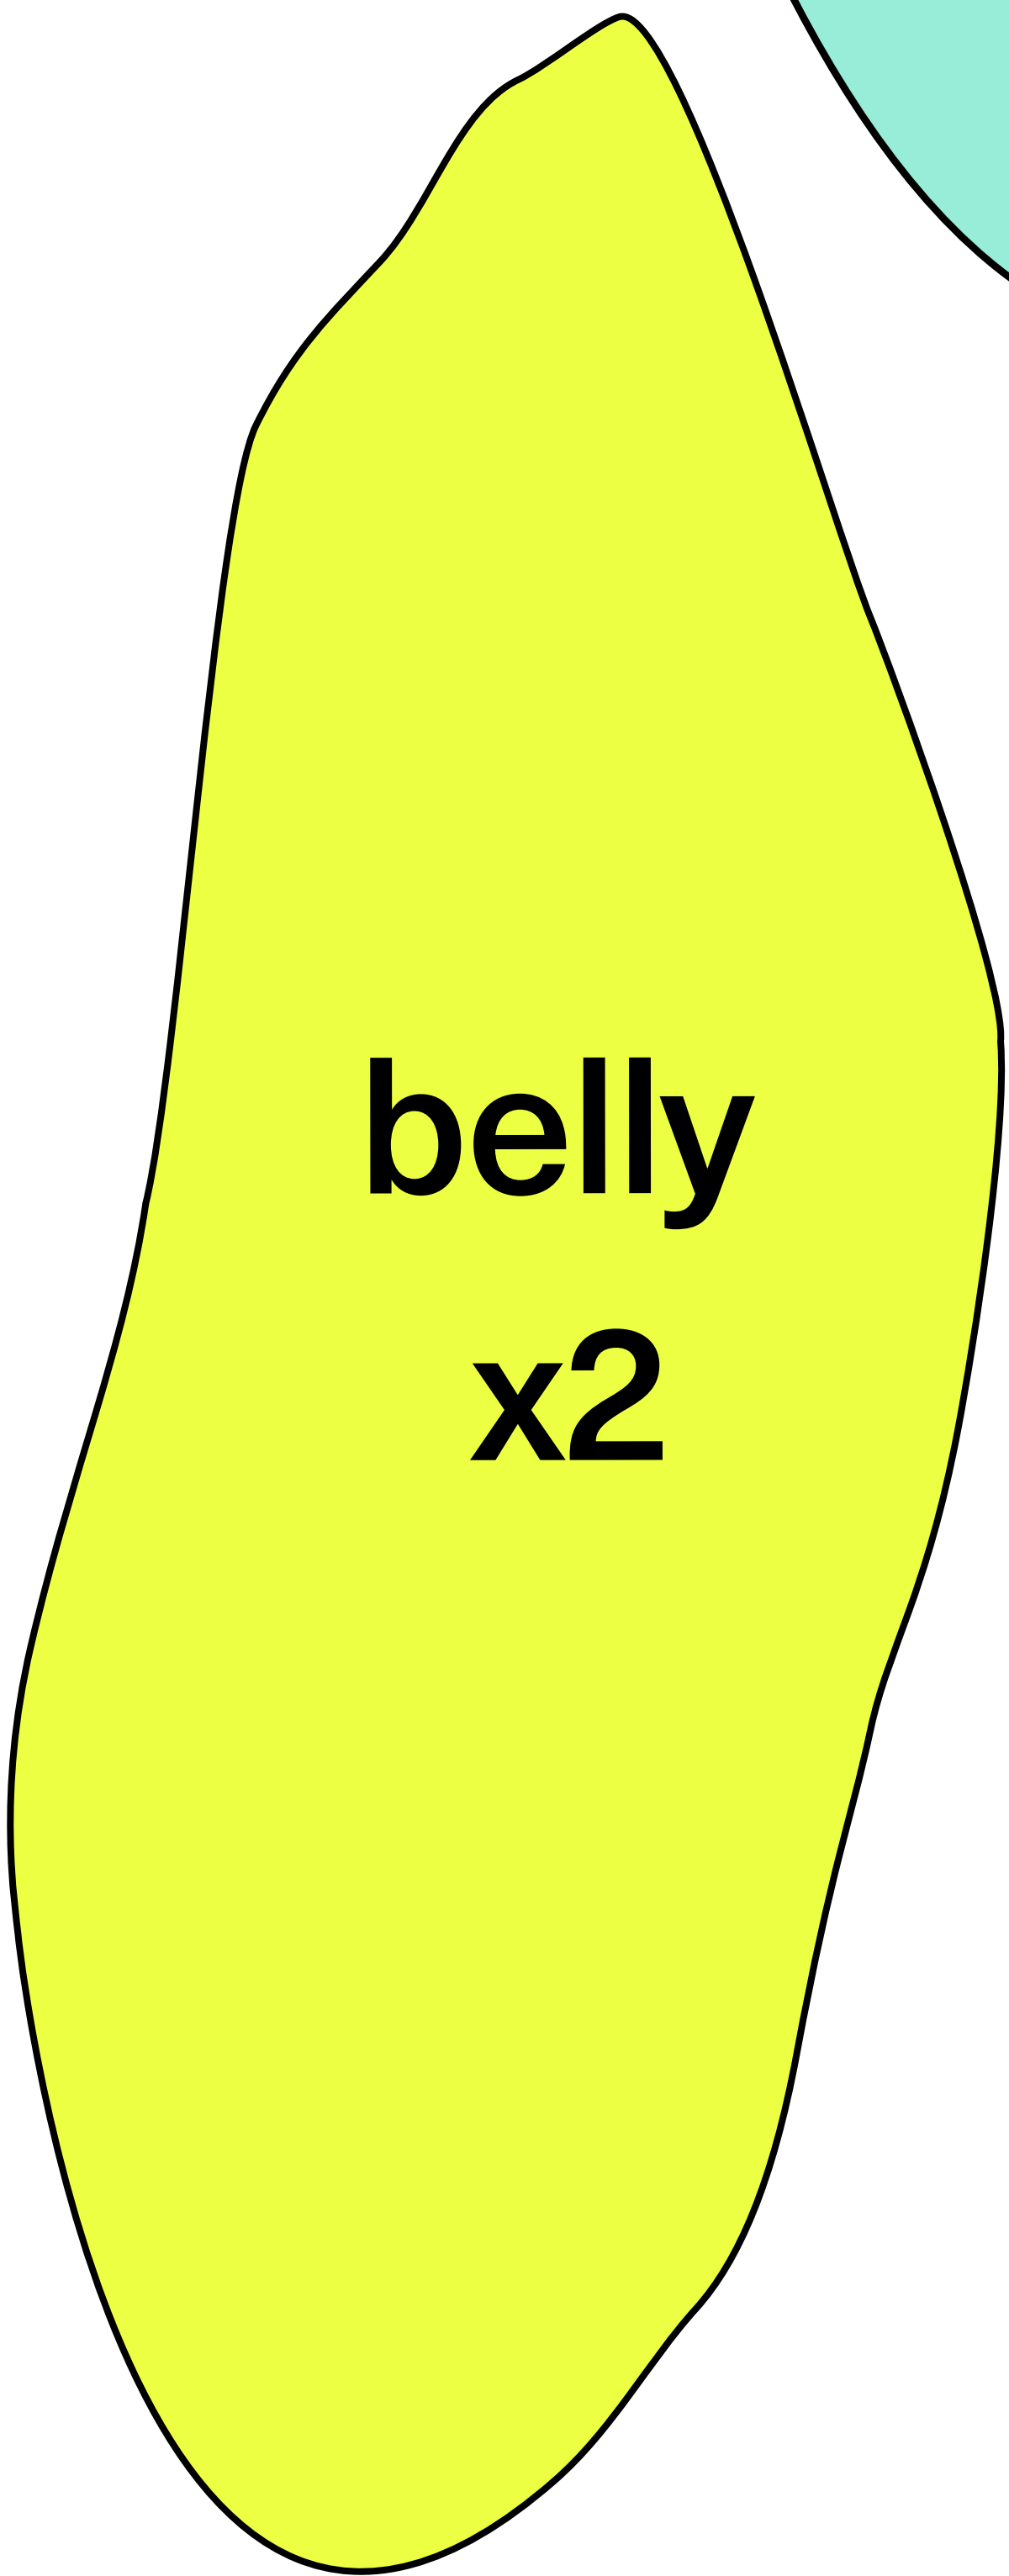

head x2

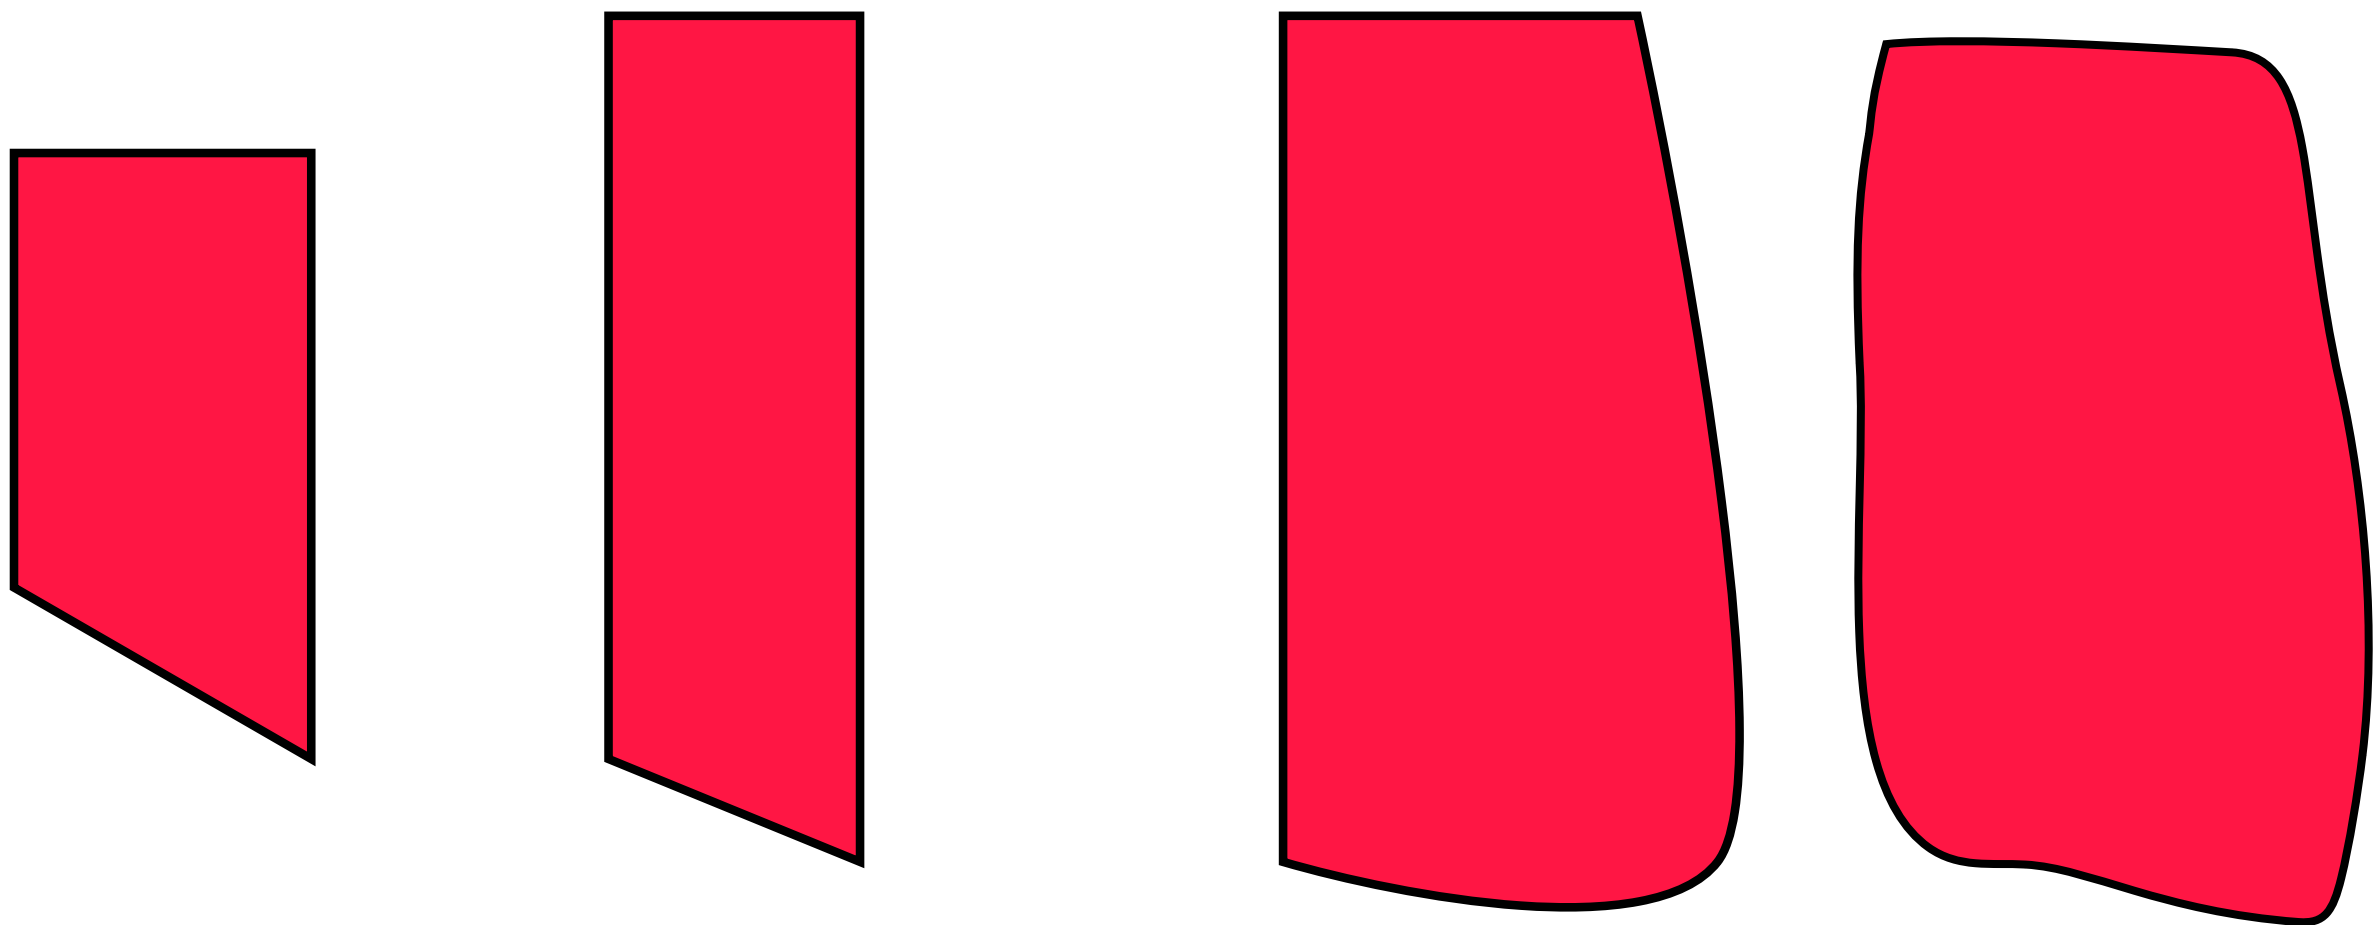

spike x14

spike x14

belly
x2

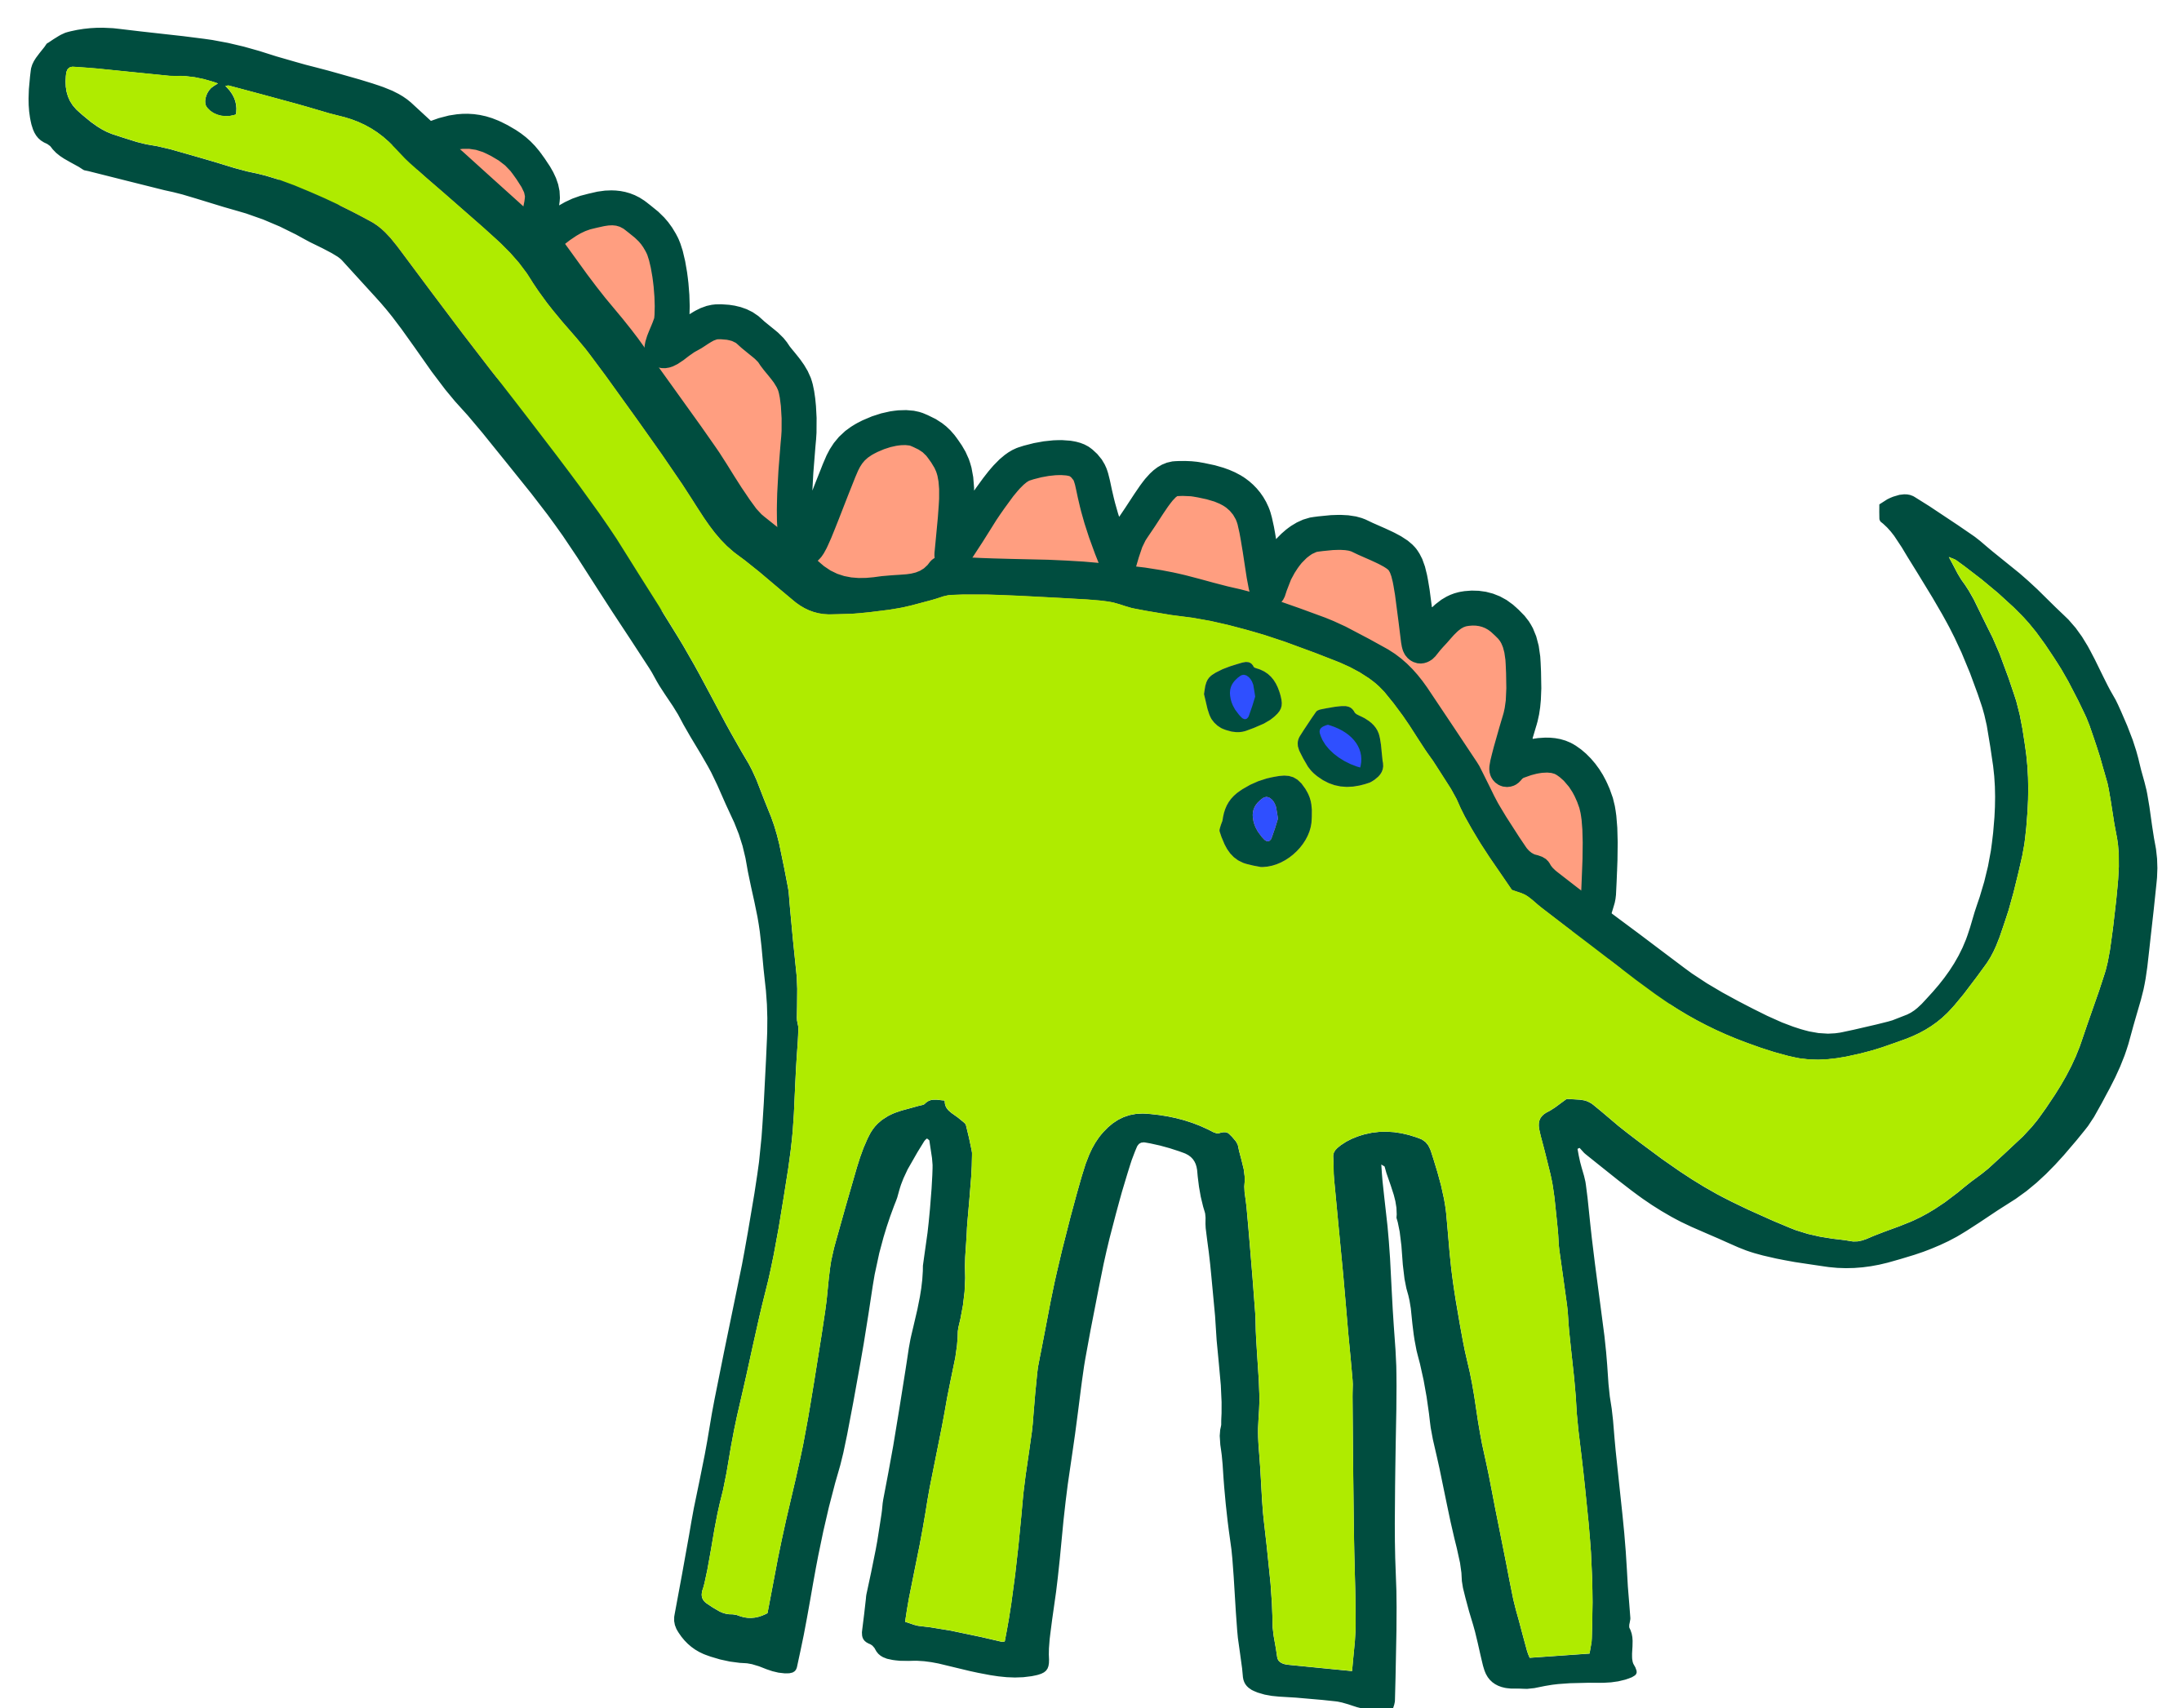

stripes

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

VALENTINA

You will need:

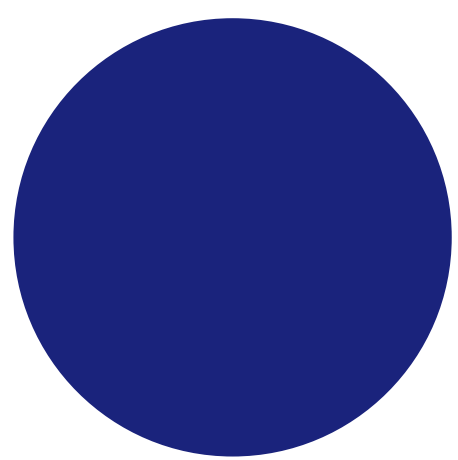

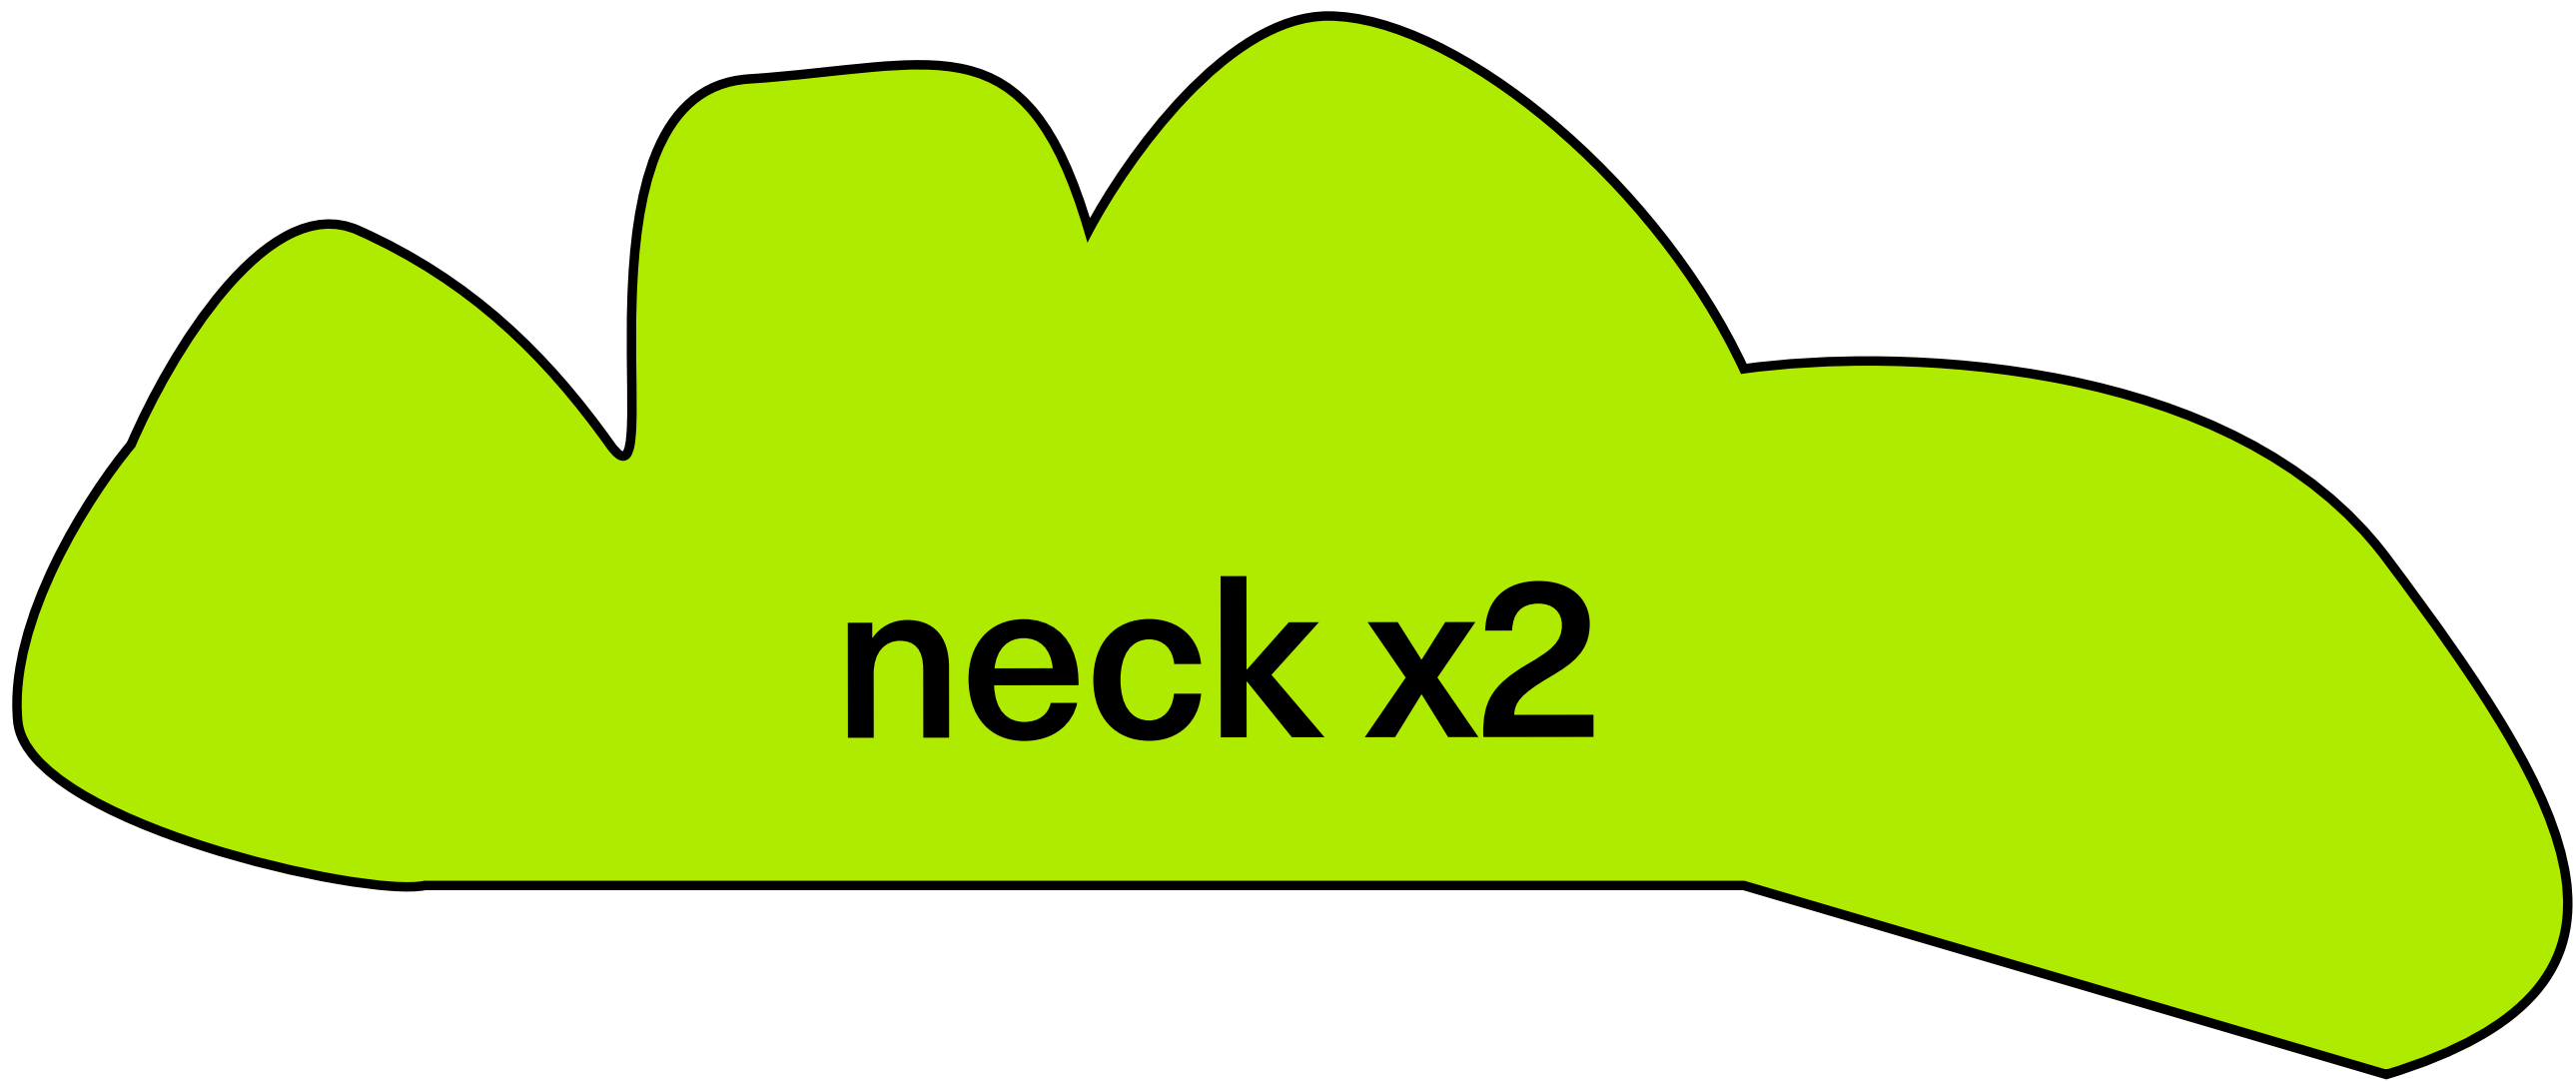

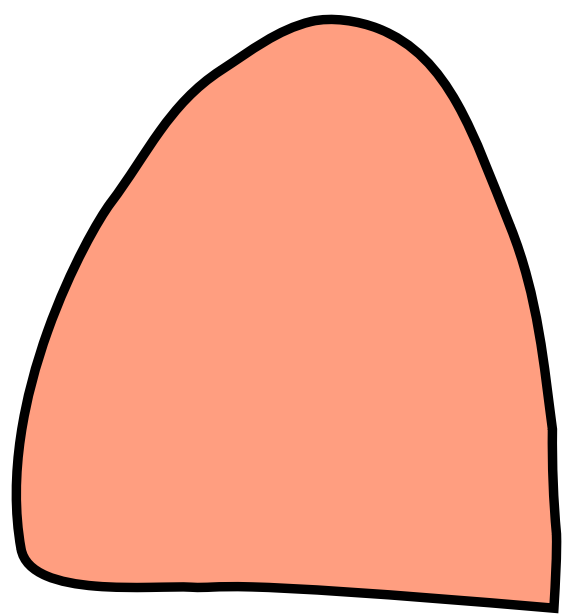

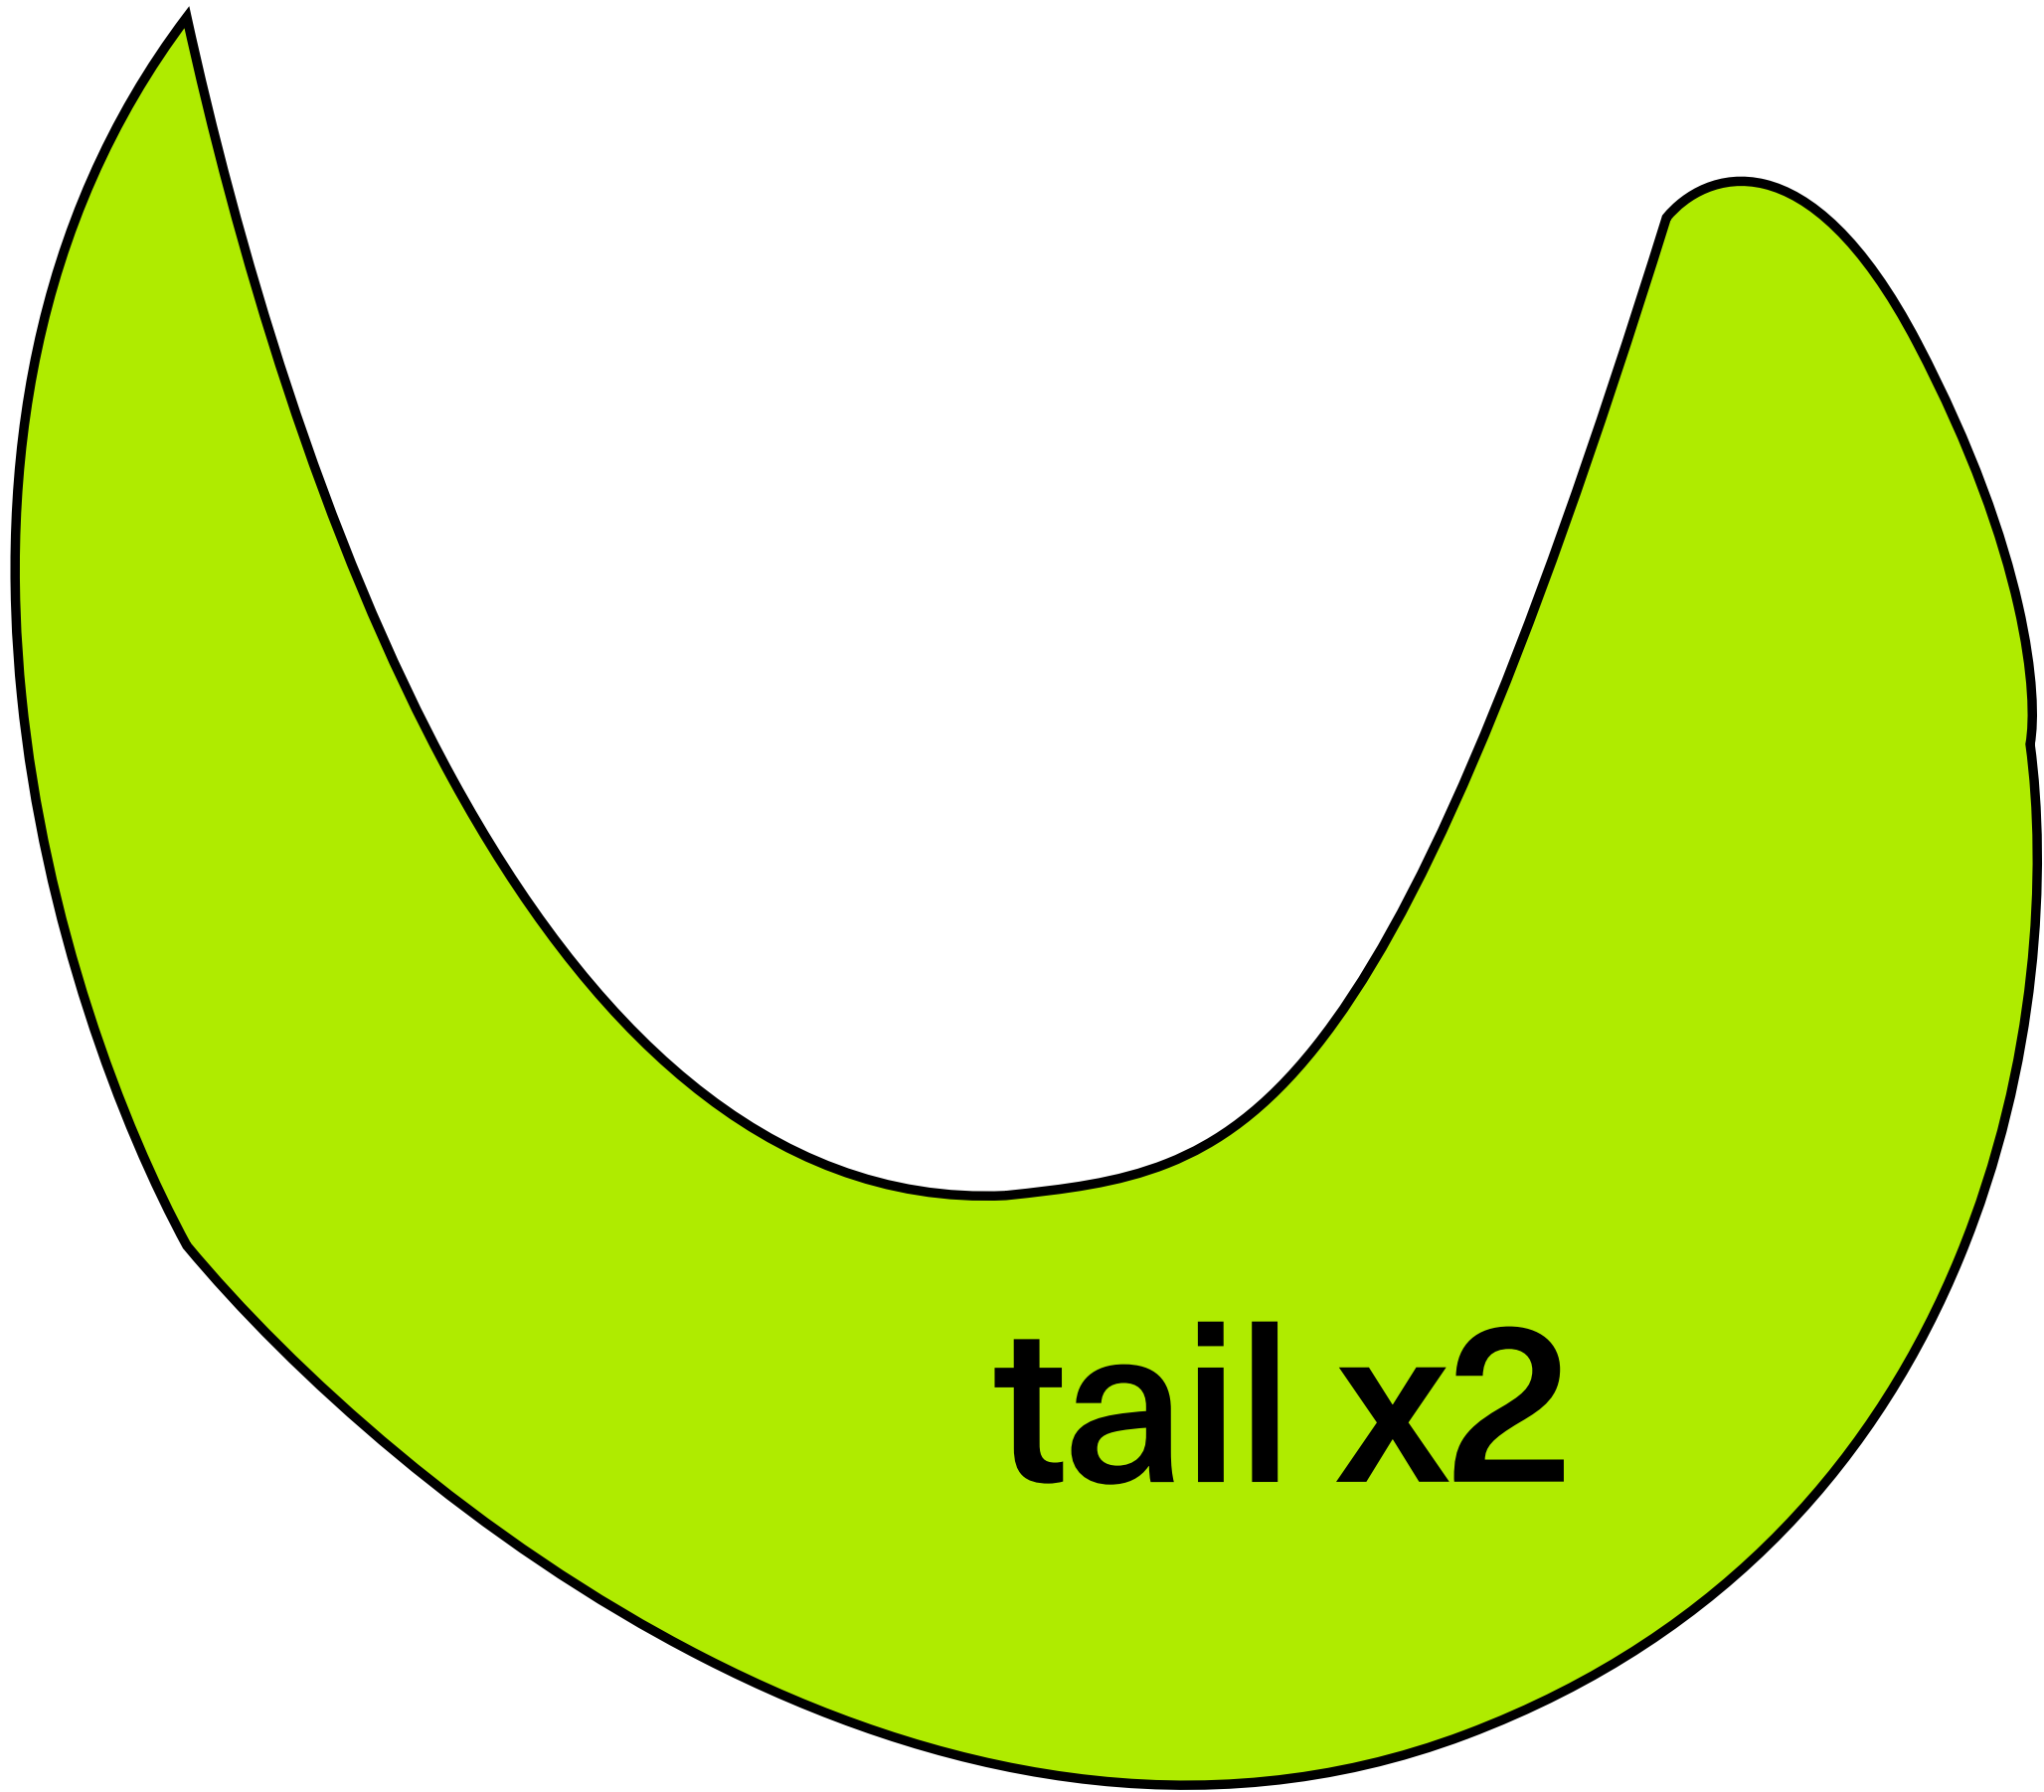

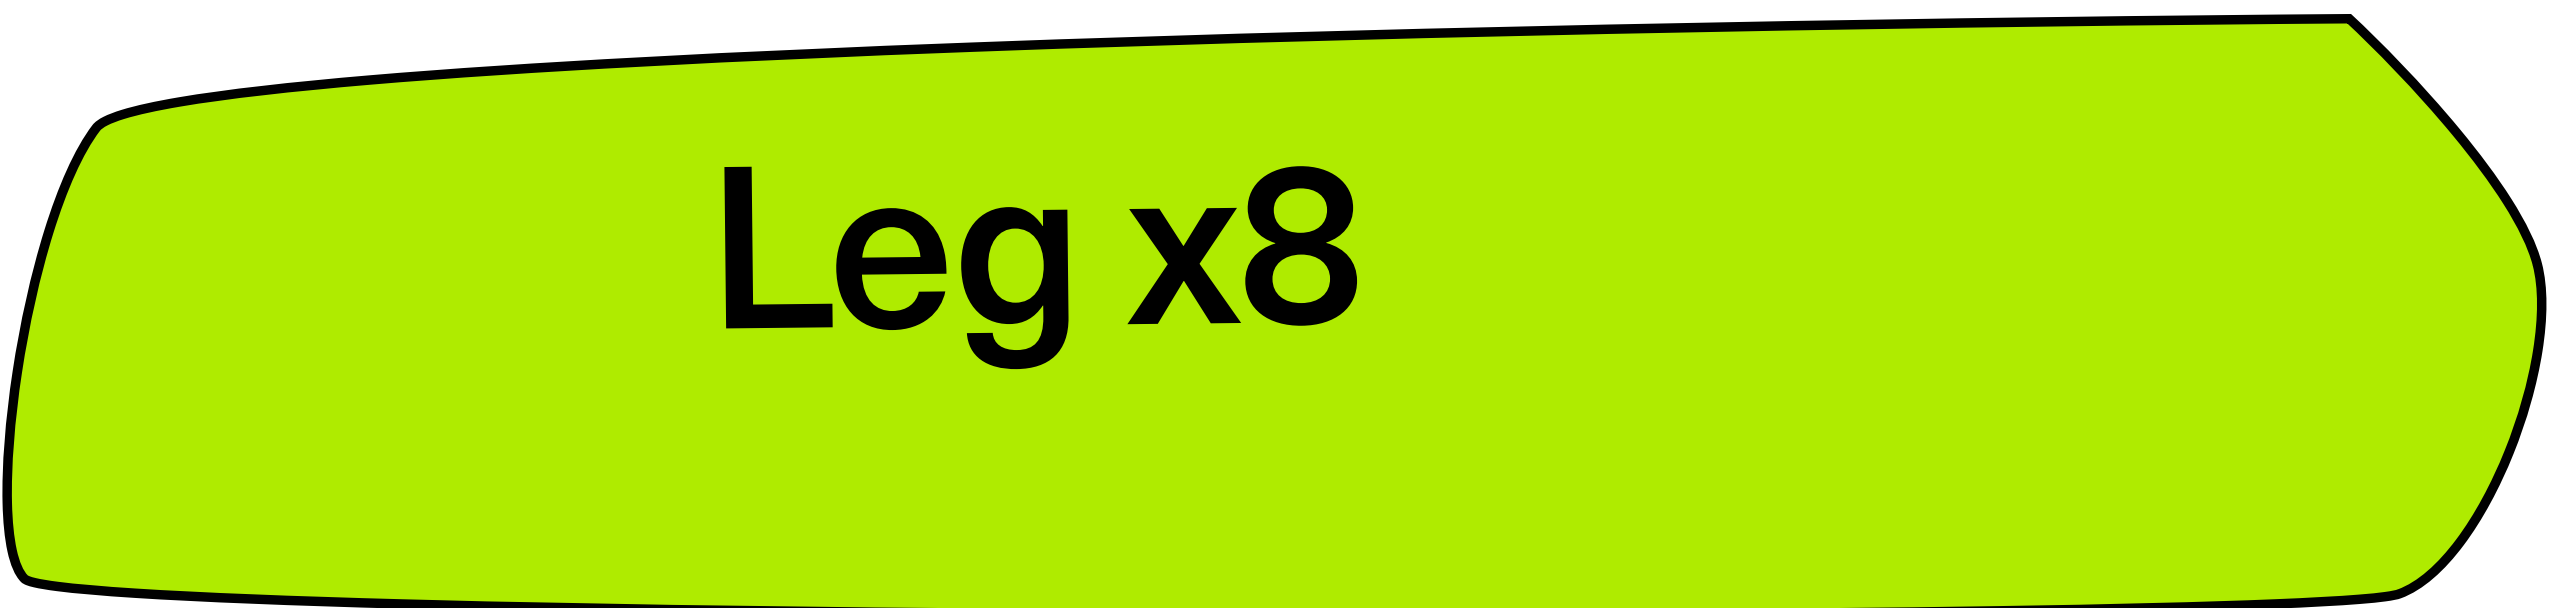

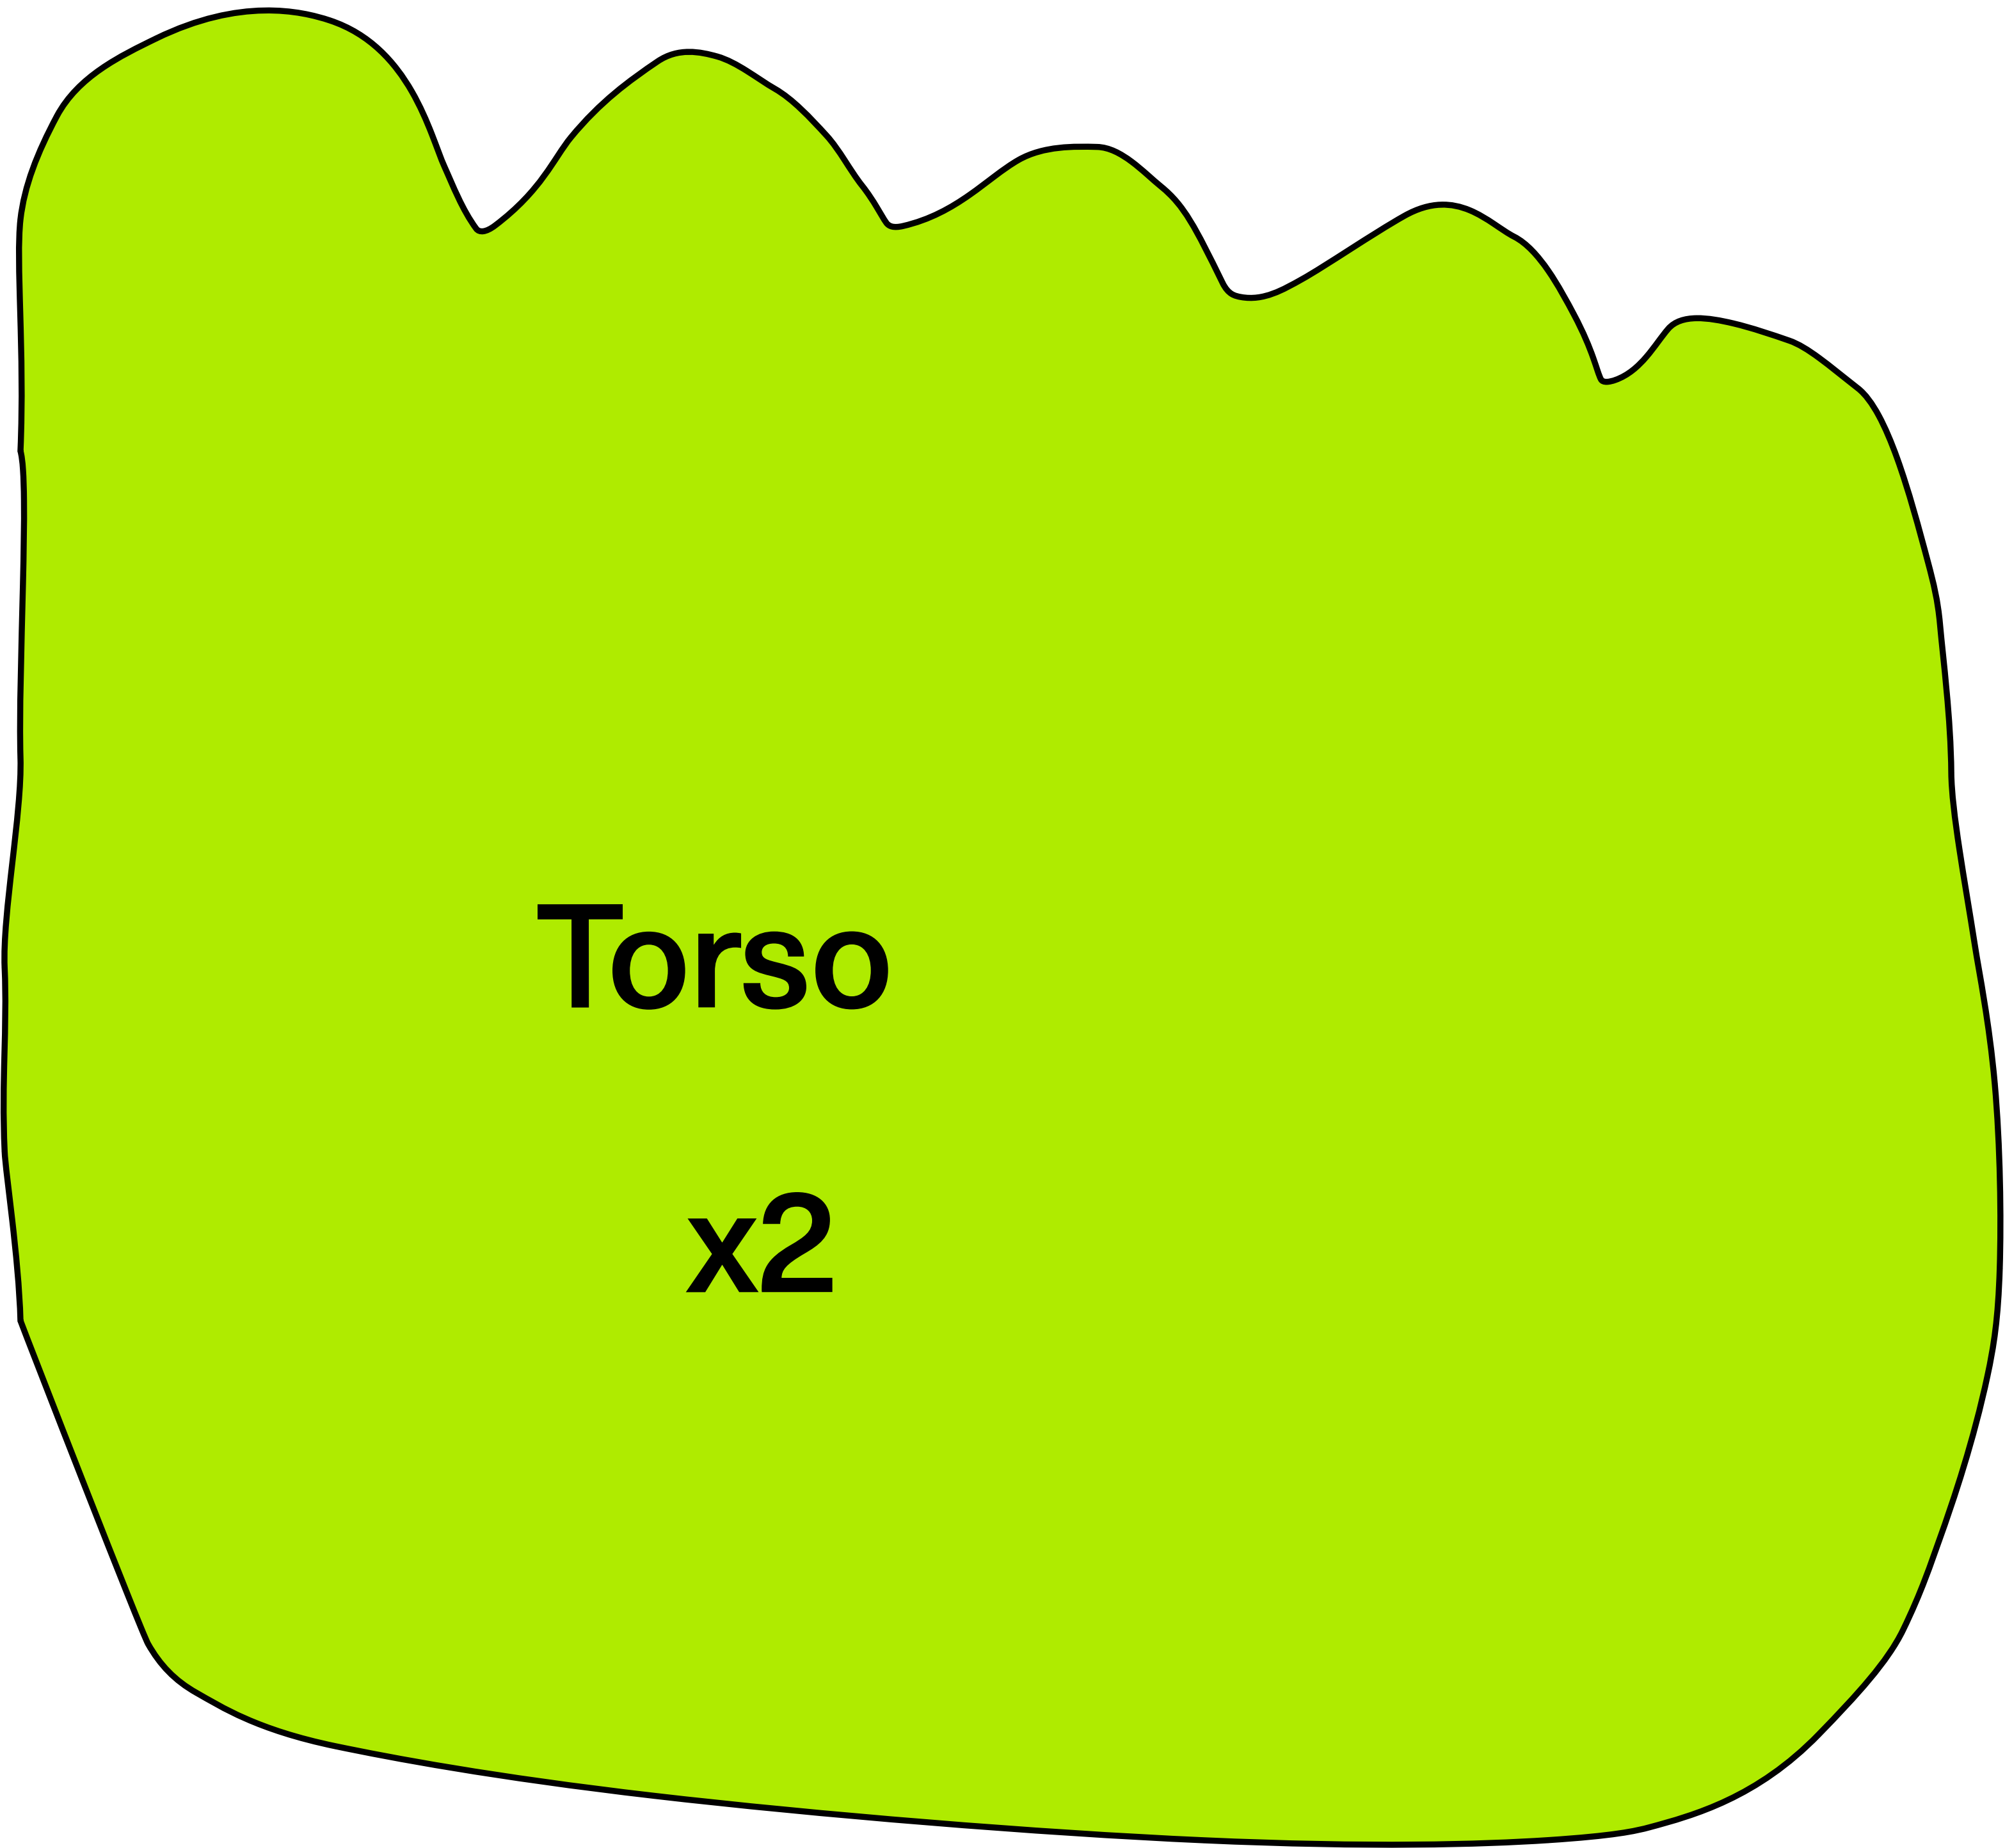

1 8x12 piece of green craft felt
1 8x12 piece of orange craft felt
1 8x12 piece of blue craft felt
Thread
Sewing needle
Stuffing

1. Trace your pattern pieces with a marker, pen, or chalk onto an 8x12 sheet of craft felt. Each pattern piece will need to be traced twice, so there should be a front and a back for each. Valentina has spots and spikes, so make sure you have a bit of fabric in two extra colors to cut out the shapes for her spots and spikes.
2. Face the two sides of each pattern piece together and sew along the edge with a whip stitch, going through both pieces of felt and around the edge back to the side you started on. Here's a handy tutorial!
<https://www.funclothcrafts.com/all-posts/how-to-whipstitch>

Continue this stitch all the way around the pattern piece. If you want to stuff your dinosaur, be sure to leave a 1-to-2-inch gap before sewing the pattern piece closed. Tie your thread in a knot and snip the remaining thread. Repeat this for each pattern piece. You should end up with a head, neck, torso, tail, and 4 legs.
3. Before attaching the pieces together, sew all the markings on your dinosaur. These pieces are called "appliques." Valentina has 9 spikes: 3 on her neck, and 6 on her back. She also has 3 spots on her back as well. Cut 18 triangles out of your second color of felt and 6 spots out of the third color. Sew these on the pattern piece with the same stitch you used to sew your pattern pieces together, following along the edge of the applique.
4. Once every head, neck, torso, tail, and leg has been sewn and stuffed you'll stitch the pieces together with an "X." Start on the backside of the piece you're attaching to the other, making sure the knot sits between the two pieces. Pass the needle back and forth a few times through both pattern pieces, making a nice solid dash to form the first half of the "X." Now sew another dash, making sure to cross the first dash, creating an "X." Just like you started between the two pattern pieces, you'll want to tie the finishing knot the same way, between the two pieces so it is hidden. Once the knot is tied, snip off the extra thread.
5. Our dino is almost complete, but Valentina needs to see! The last step is to sew her an eye by using the same whip stitch as before only really small. Same as the appliques, decide if Valentina should have one eye on one side or one on both sides of her head. For both sides, sew back and forth through her head until there is a small black dot on each side. For an eye on only one side, sew back and forth only through the front piece of the head until a small dot has formed. Once she has an eye she's all done!

VALENTINA

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

AZZY

You will need:

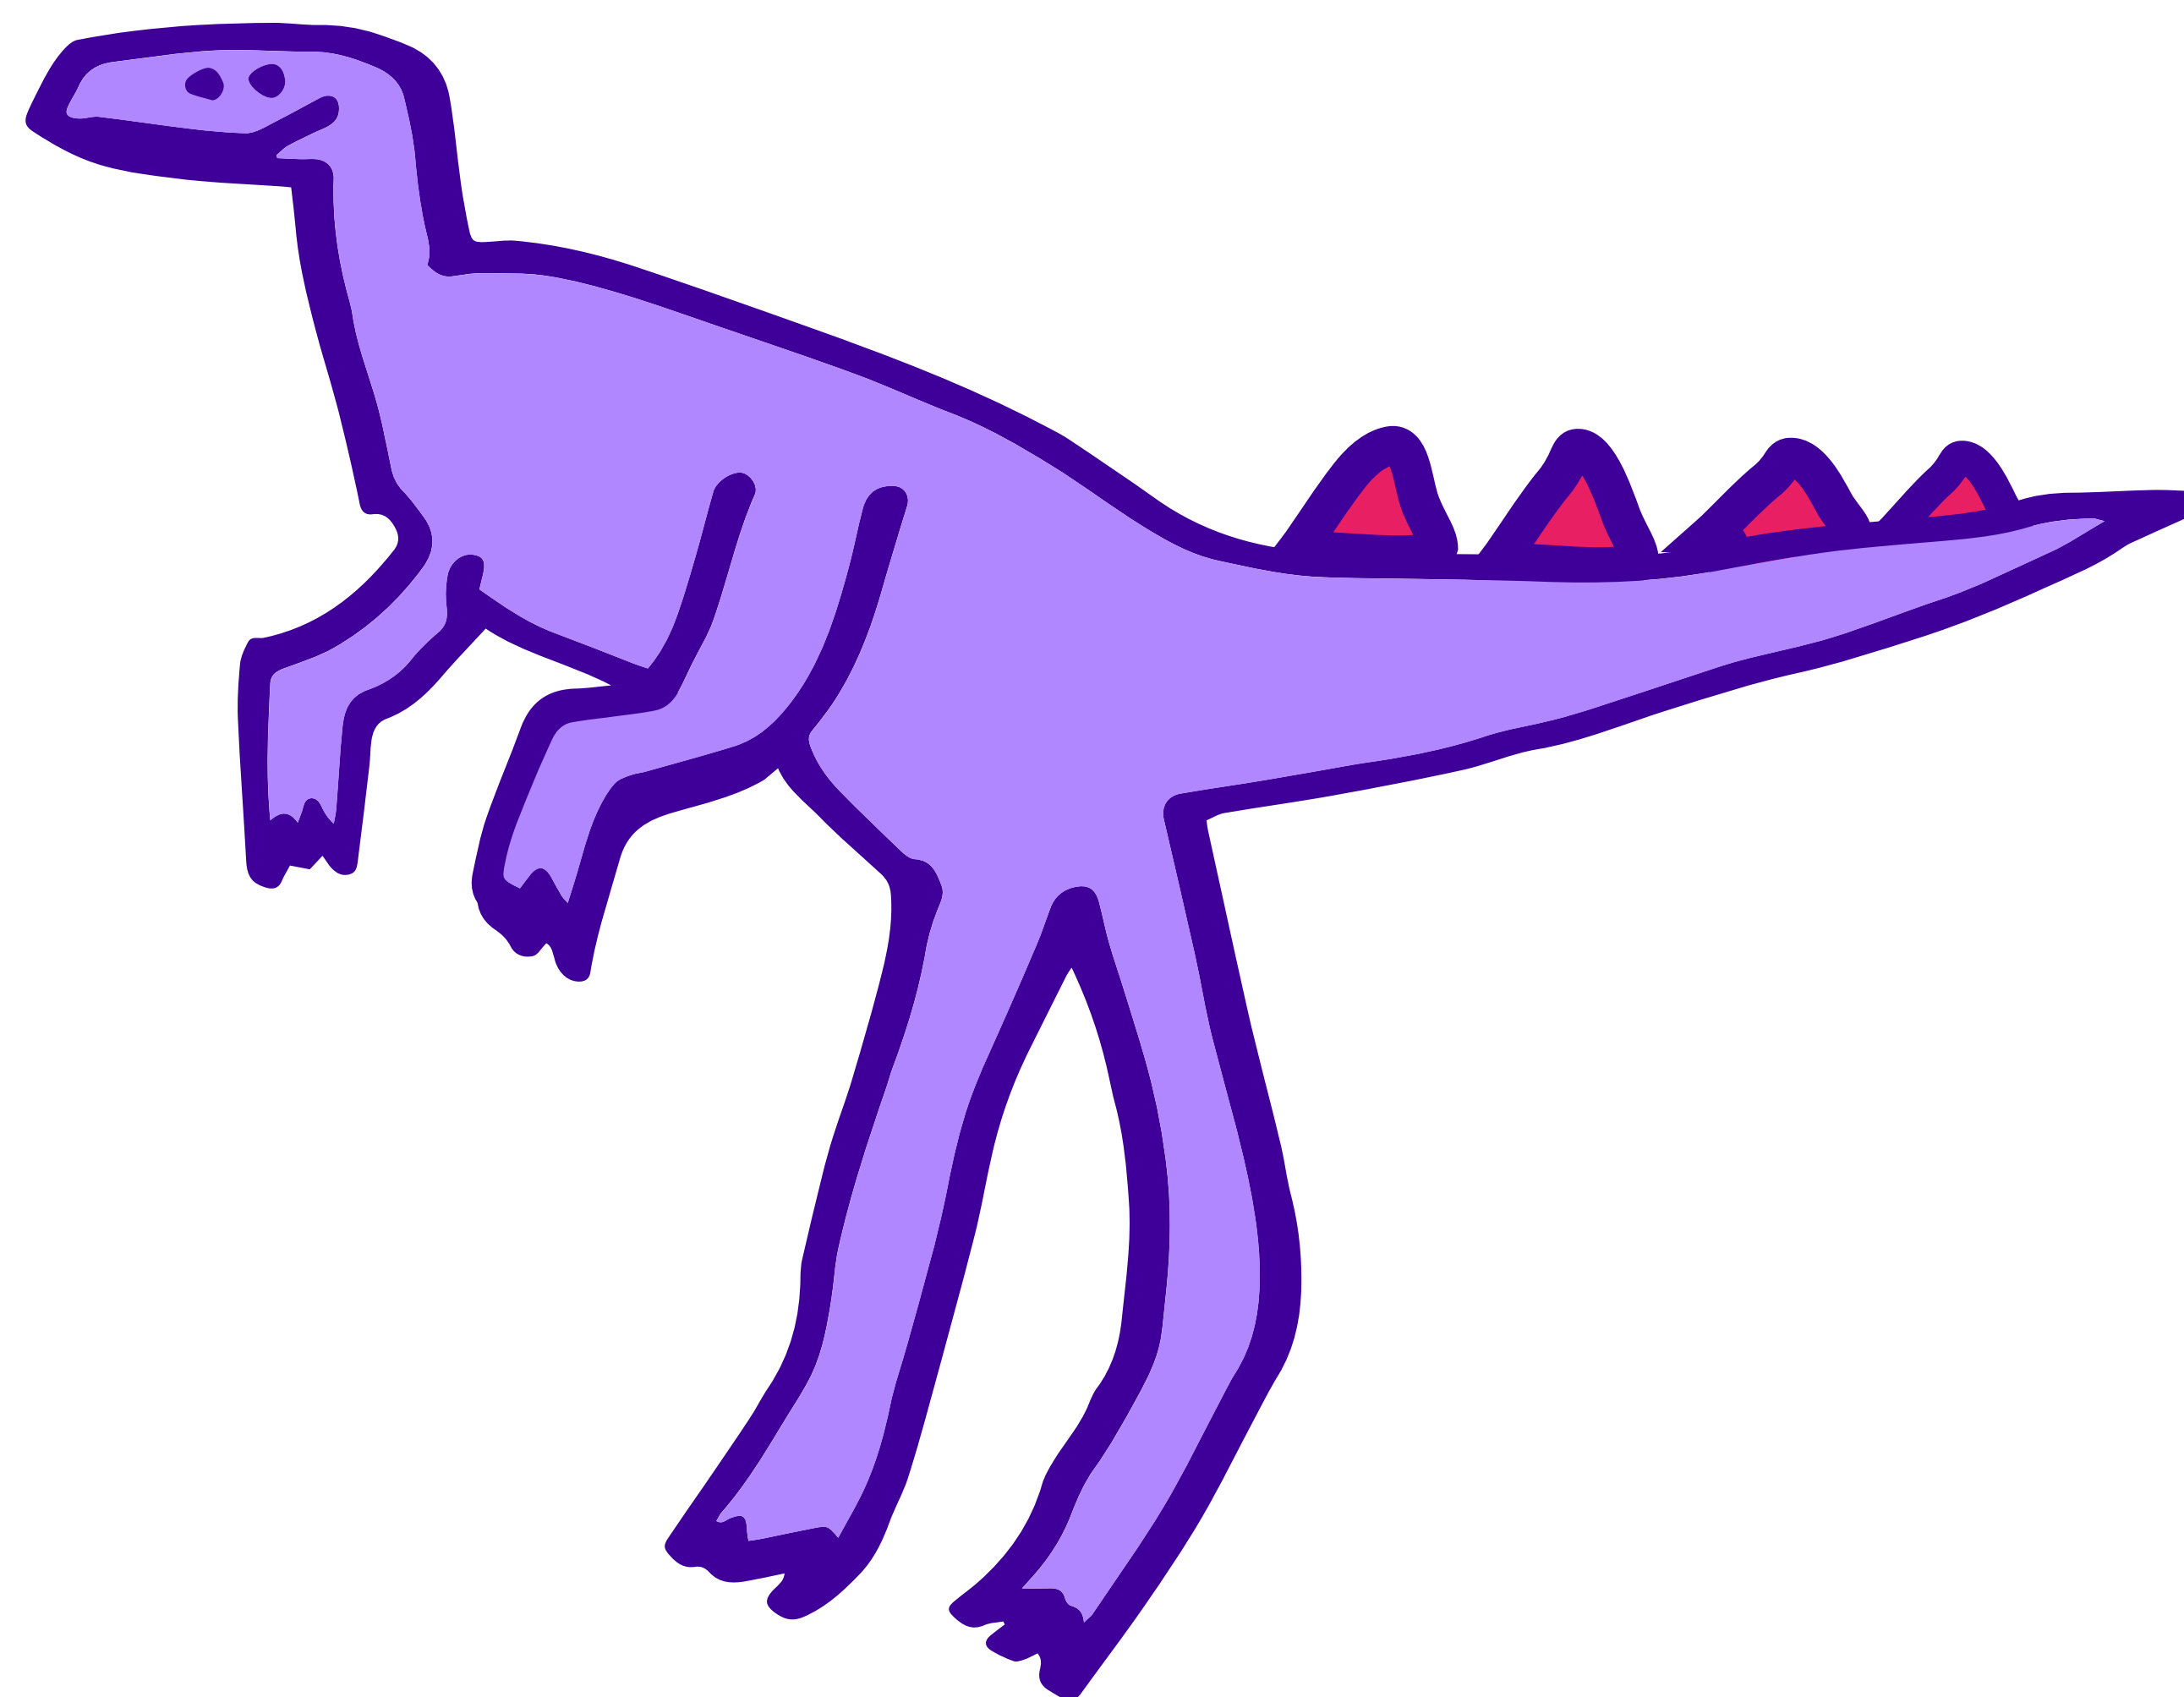

1 8x12 piece of purple craft felt

1 8x12 piece of pink craft felt

Thread

Sewing needle

Stuffing

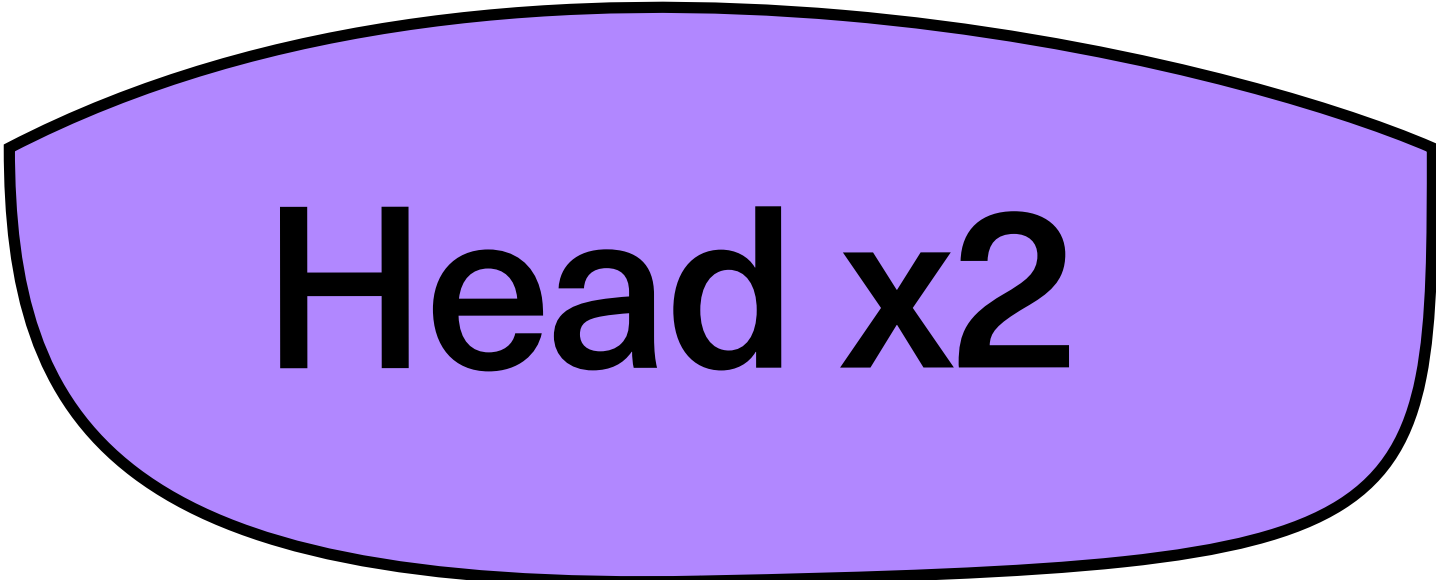

1. Trace your pattern pieces with a marker, pen, or chalk onto an 8x12 sheet of craft felt. The pattern piece for Azzy's head, neck, torso, and tail will need to be traced twice, so there should be a front and a back for each. Azzy's arms and legs will need to be traced 4 times. Azzy has spikes, so make sure you have a bit of fabric in a second color to cut out the extra shapes.
2. Face the two sides of each pattern piece together and sew along the edge with a whip stitch, going through both pieces of felt and around the edge back to the side you started on. Here's a handy tutorial!
<https://www.funclothcrafts.com/all-posts/how-to-whipstitch>

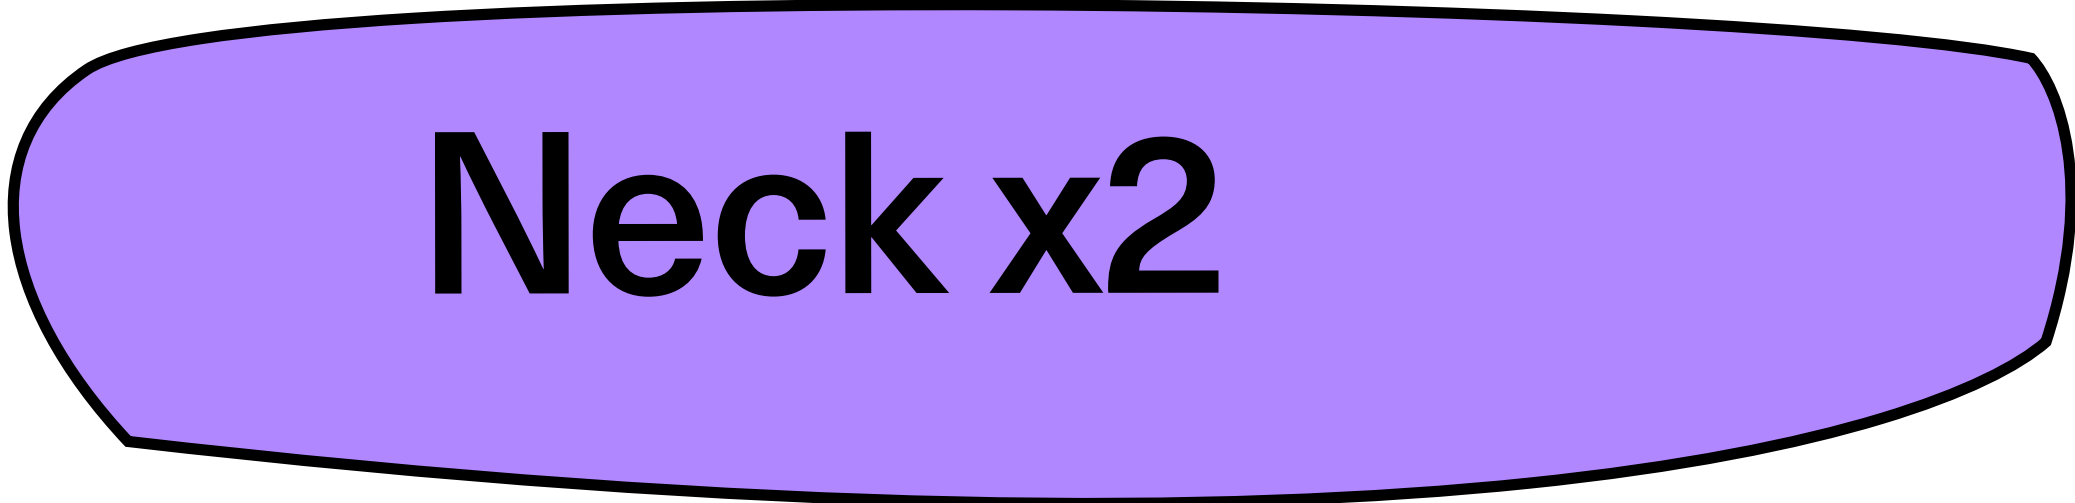

Continue this stitch all the way around the pattern piece. If you want to stuff your dinosaur, be sure to leave a 1-to-2-inch gap before sewing the pattern piece closed. Tie your thread in a knot and snip the remaining thread. Repeat this for each pattern piece. You should end up with a head, neck, torso, tail, arms, and legs.
3. Before attaching the pieces together, sew all the markings on your dinosaur. These pieces are called "appliques." Azzy has 4 spikes on her tail. Cut 8 triangles. Sew these on the pattern piece with the same stitch you used to sew your pattern pieces together, following along the edge of the applique.
4. Once every head, torso, tail, and arm and leg have been sewn and stuffed you'll stitch the pieces together with an "X." Start on the backside of the piece you're attaching to the other, making sure the knot sits between the two pieces. Pass the needle back and forth a few times through both pattern pieces, making a nice solid dash to form the first half of the "X." Now sew another dash, making sure to cross the first dash, creating an "X." Just like you started between the two pattern pieces, you'll want to tie the finishing knot the same way, between the two pieces so it is hidden. Once the knot is tied, snip off the extra thread.
5. Our dino is almost complete, but Azzy needs their eyes and smile! The last step is to sew their eyes by using the same whip stitch as before only really small. Azzy has two eyes on the front of their head. Sew their first eye by sewing back and forth only through the front piece of the head until a small dot has formed. Do this a second time for the second eye right next to the first. Once Azzy has both eyes, sew in small dashes, curving slightly with each new stitch until they have a tiny smile. This should take about 4 or 5 whip stitches one next to the other in a slight curve. Once their smile is done your dinosaur is complete!

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

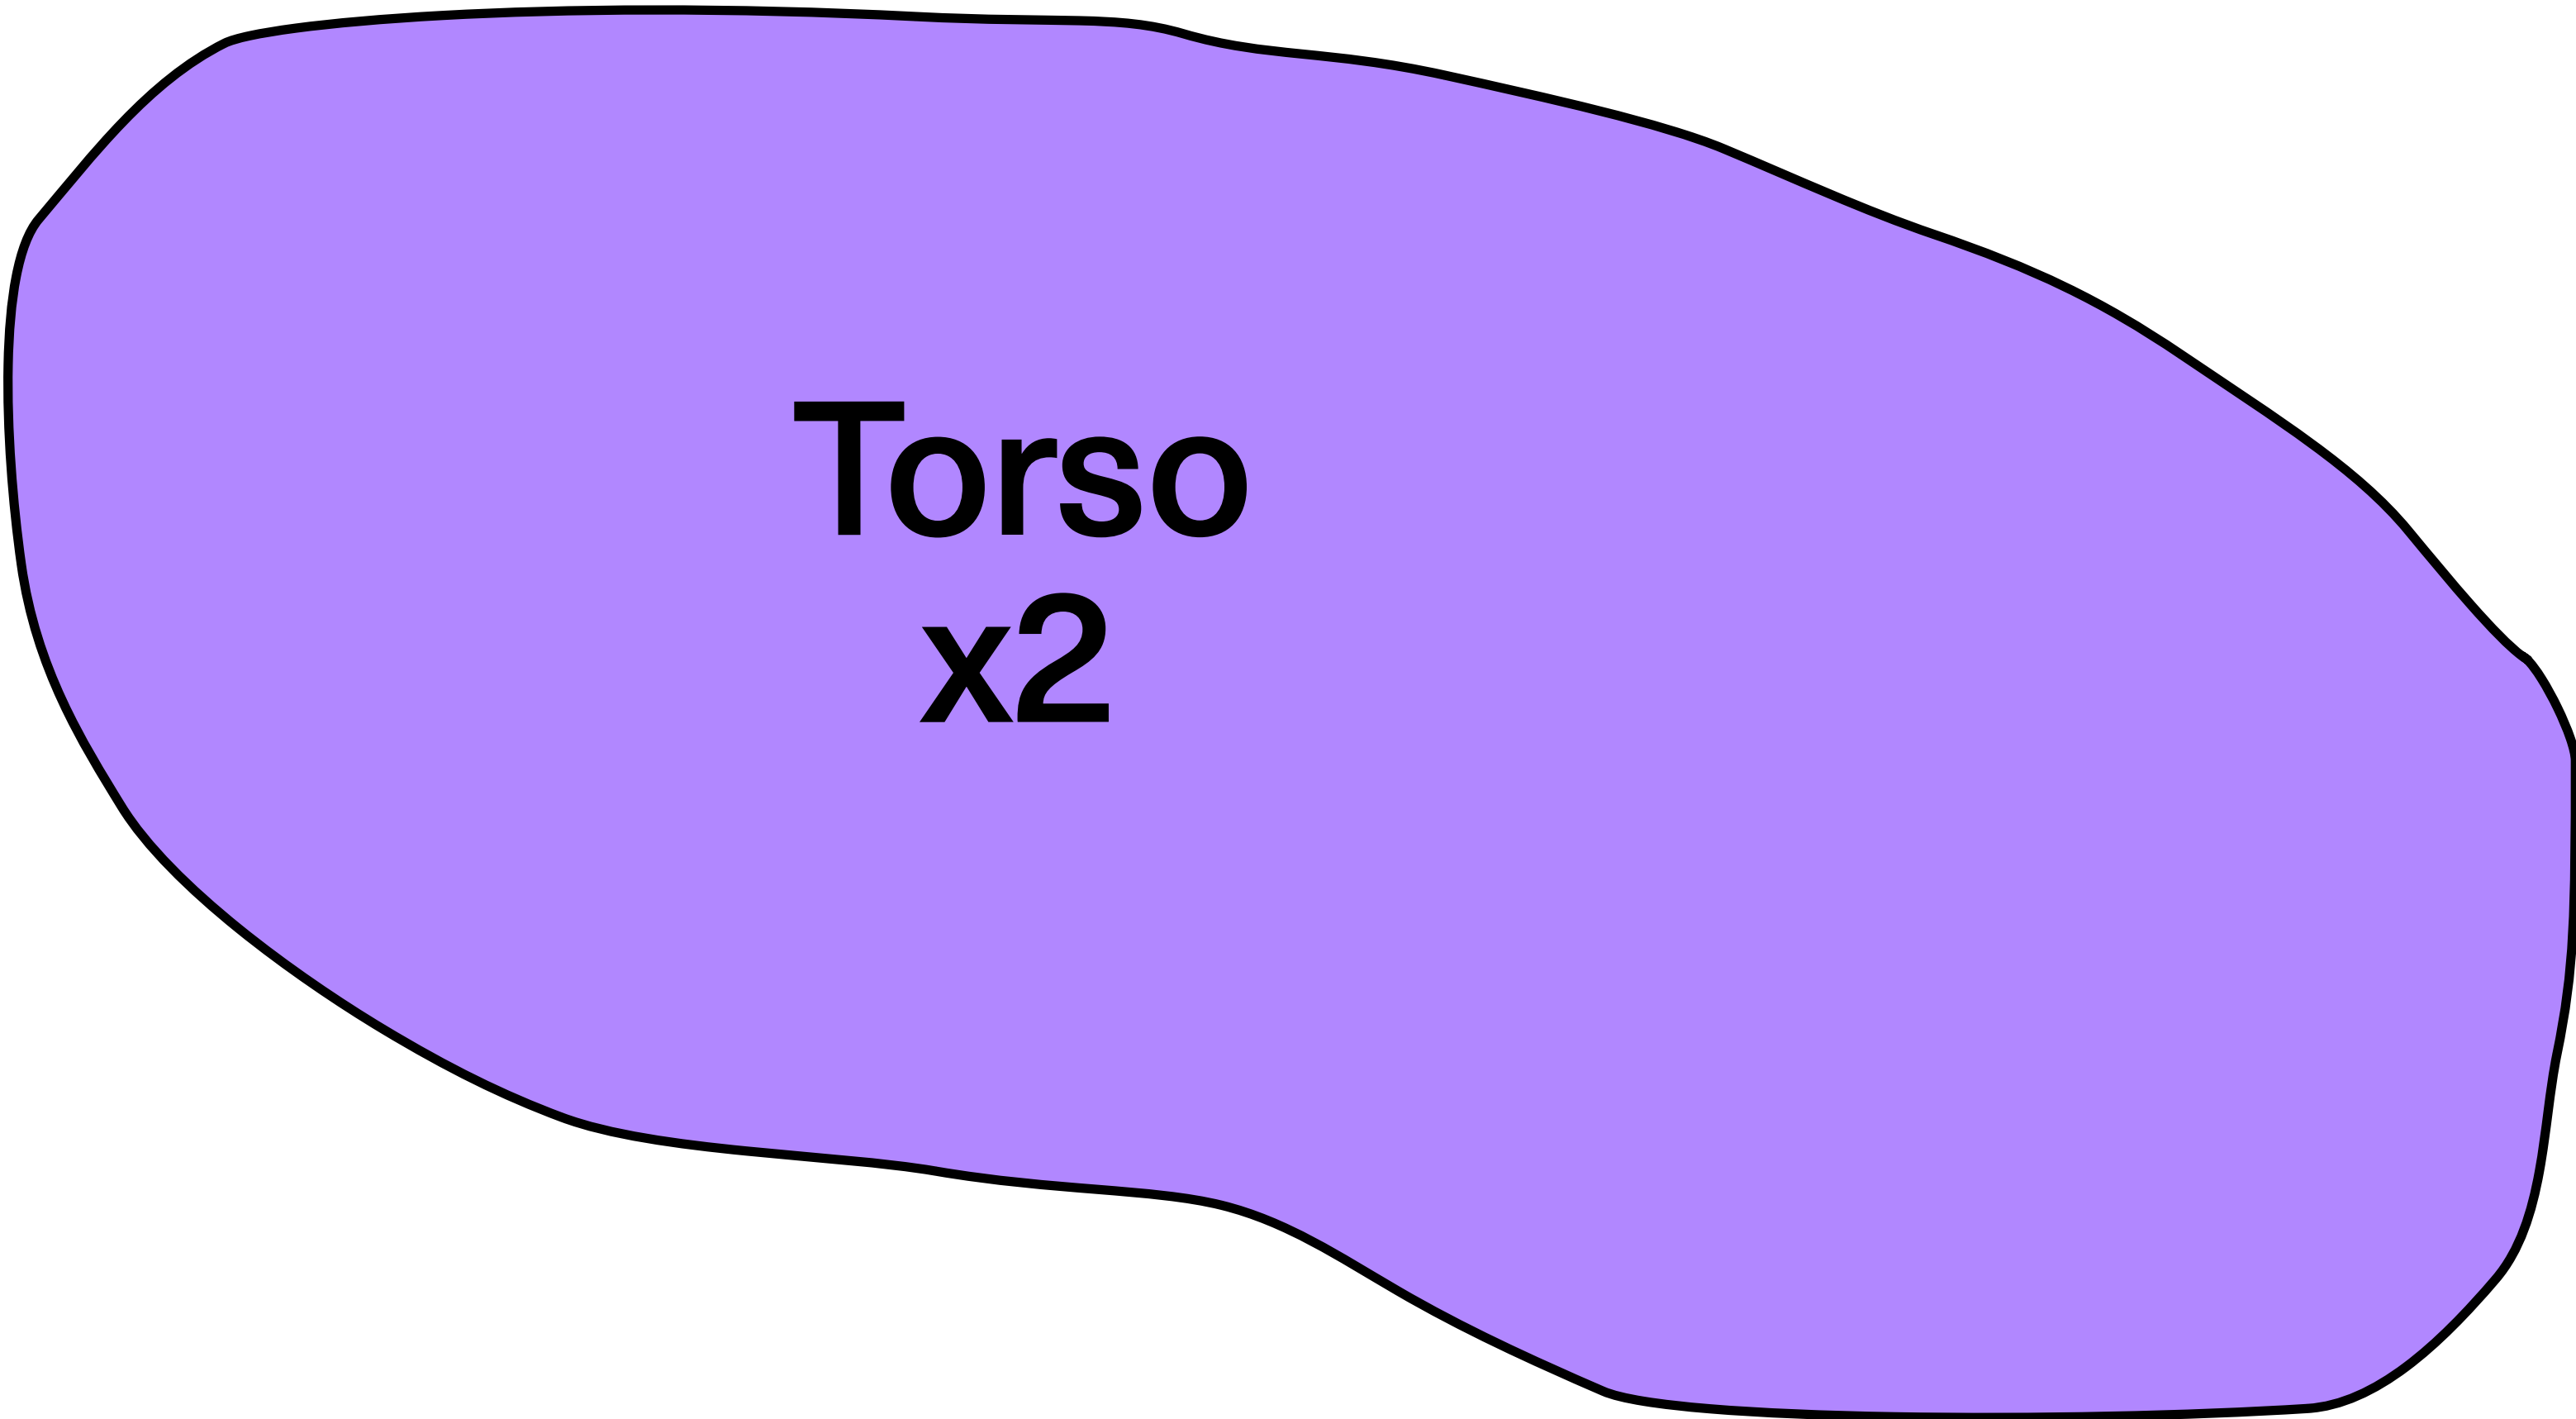

AZZY

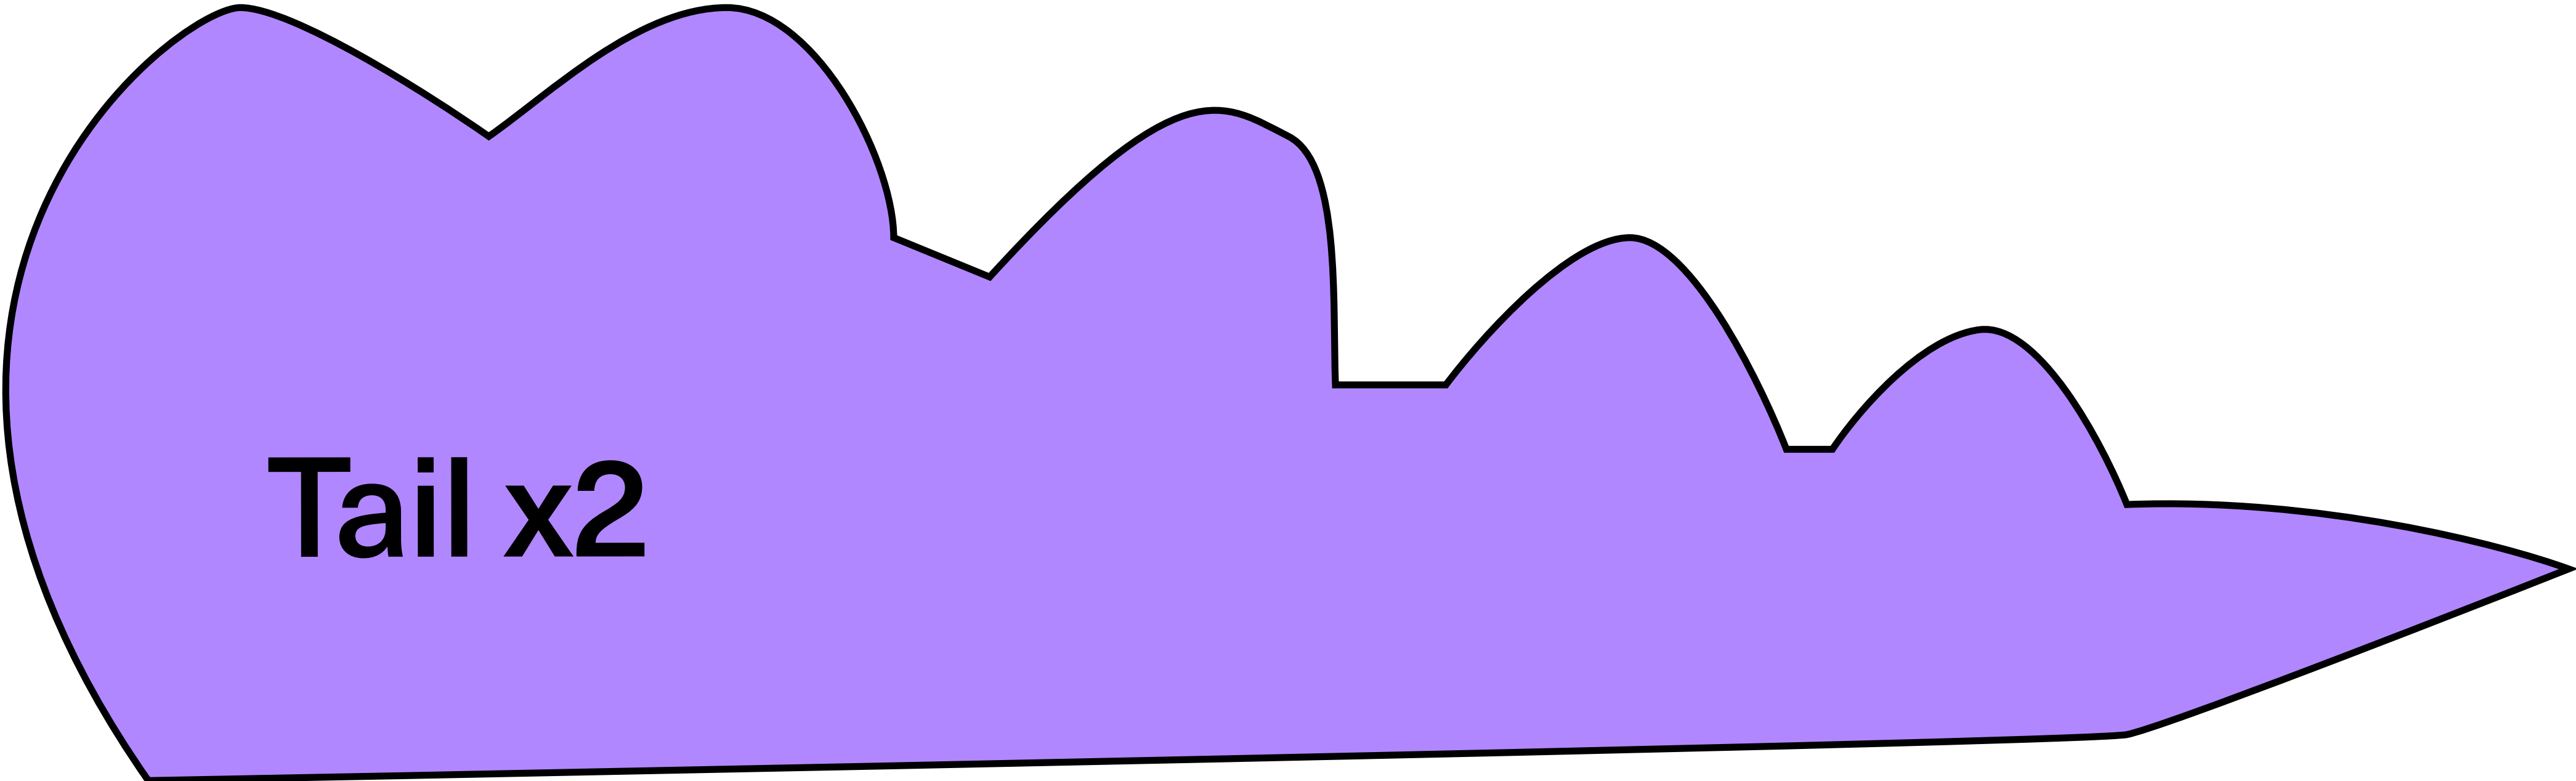

Head x2

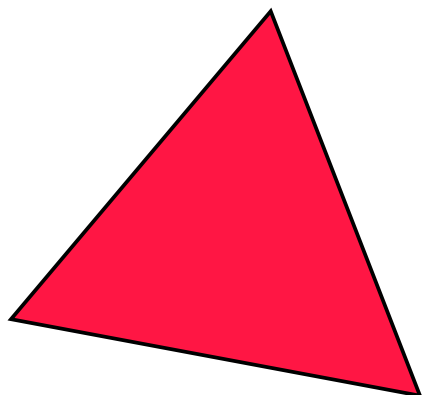

Neck x2

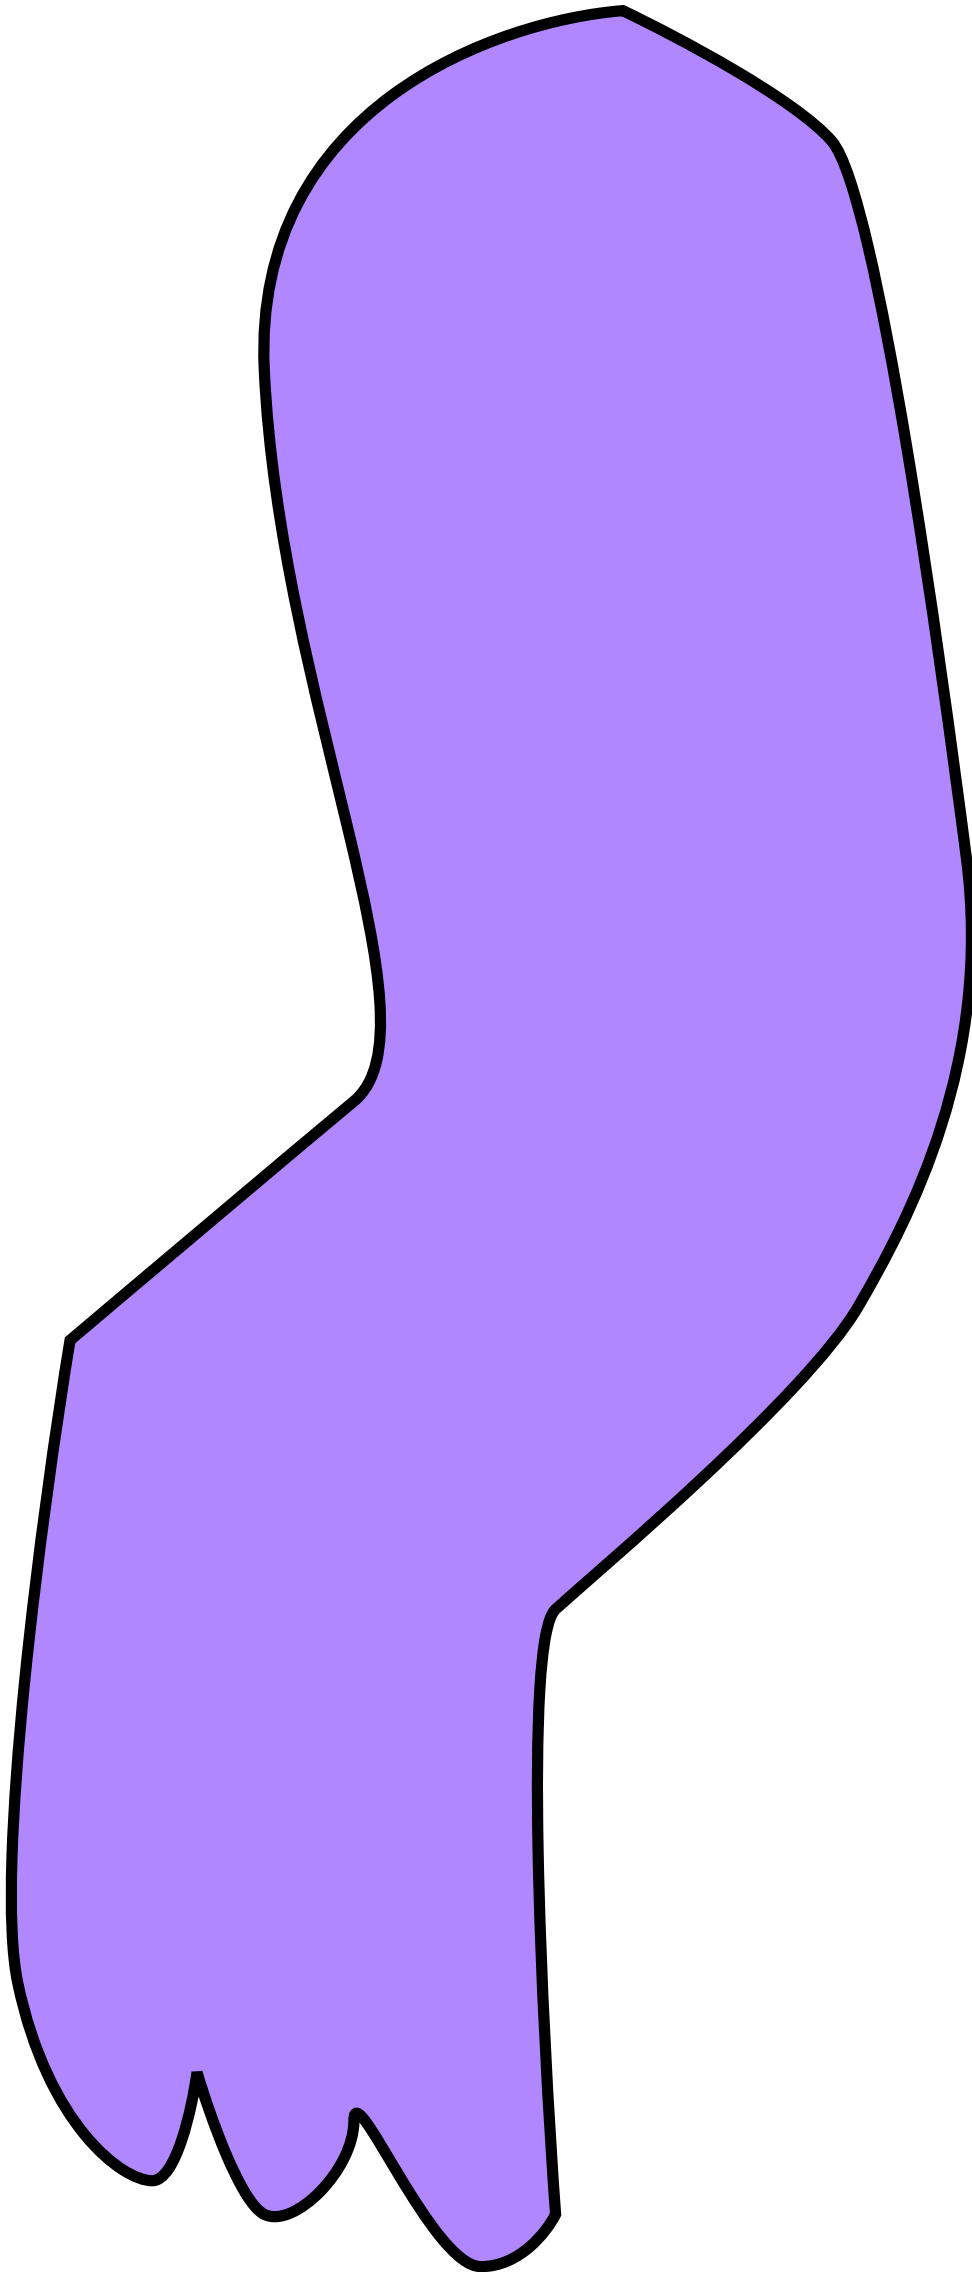

Torso
x2

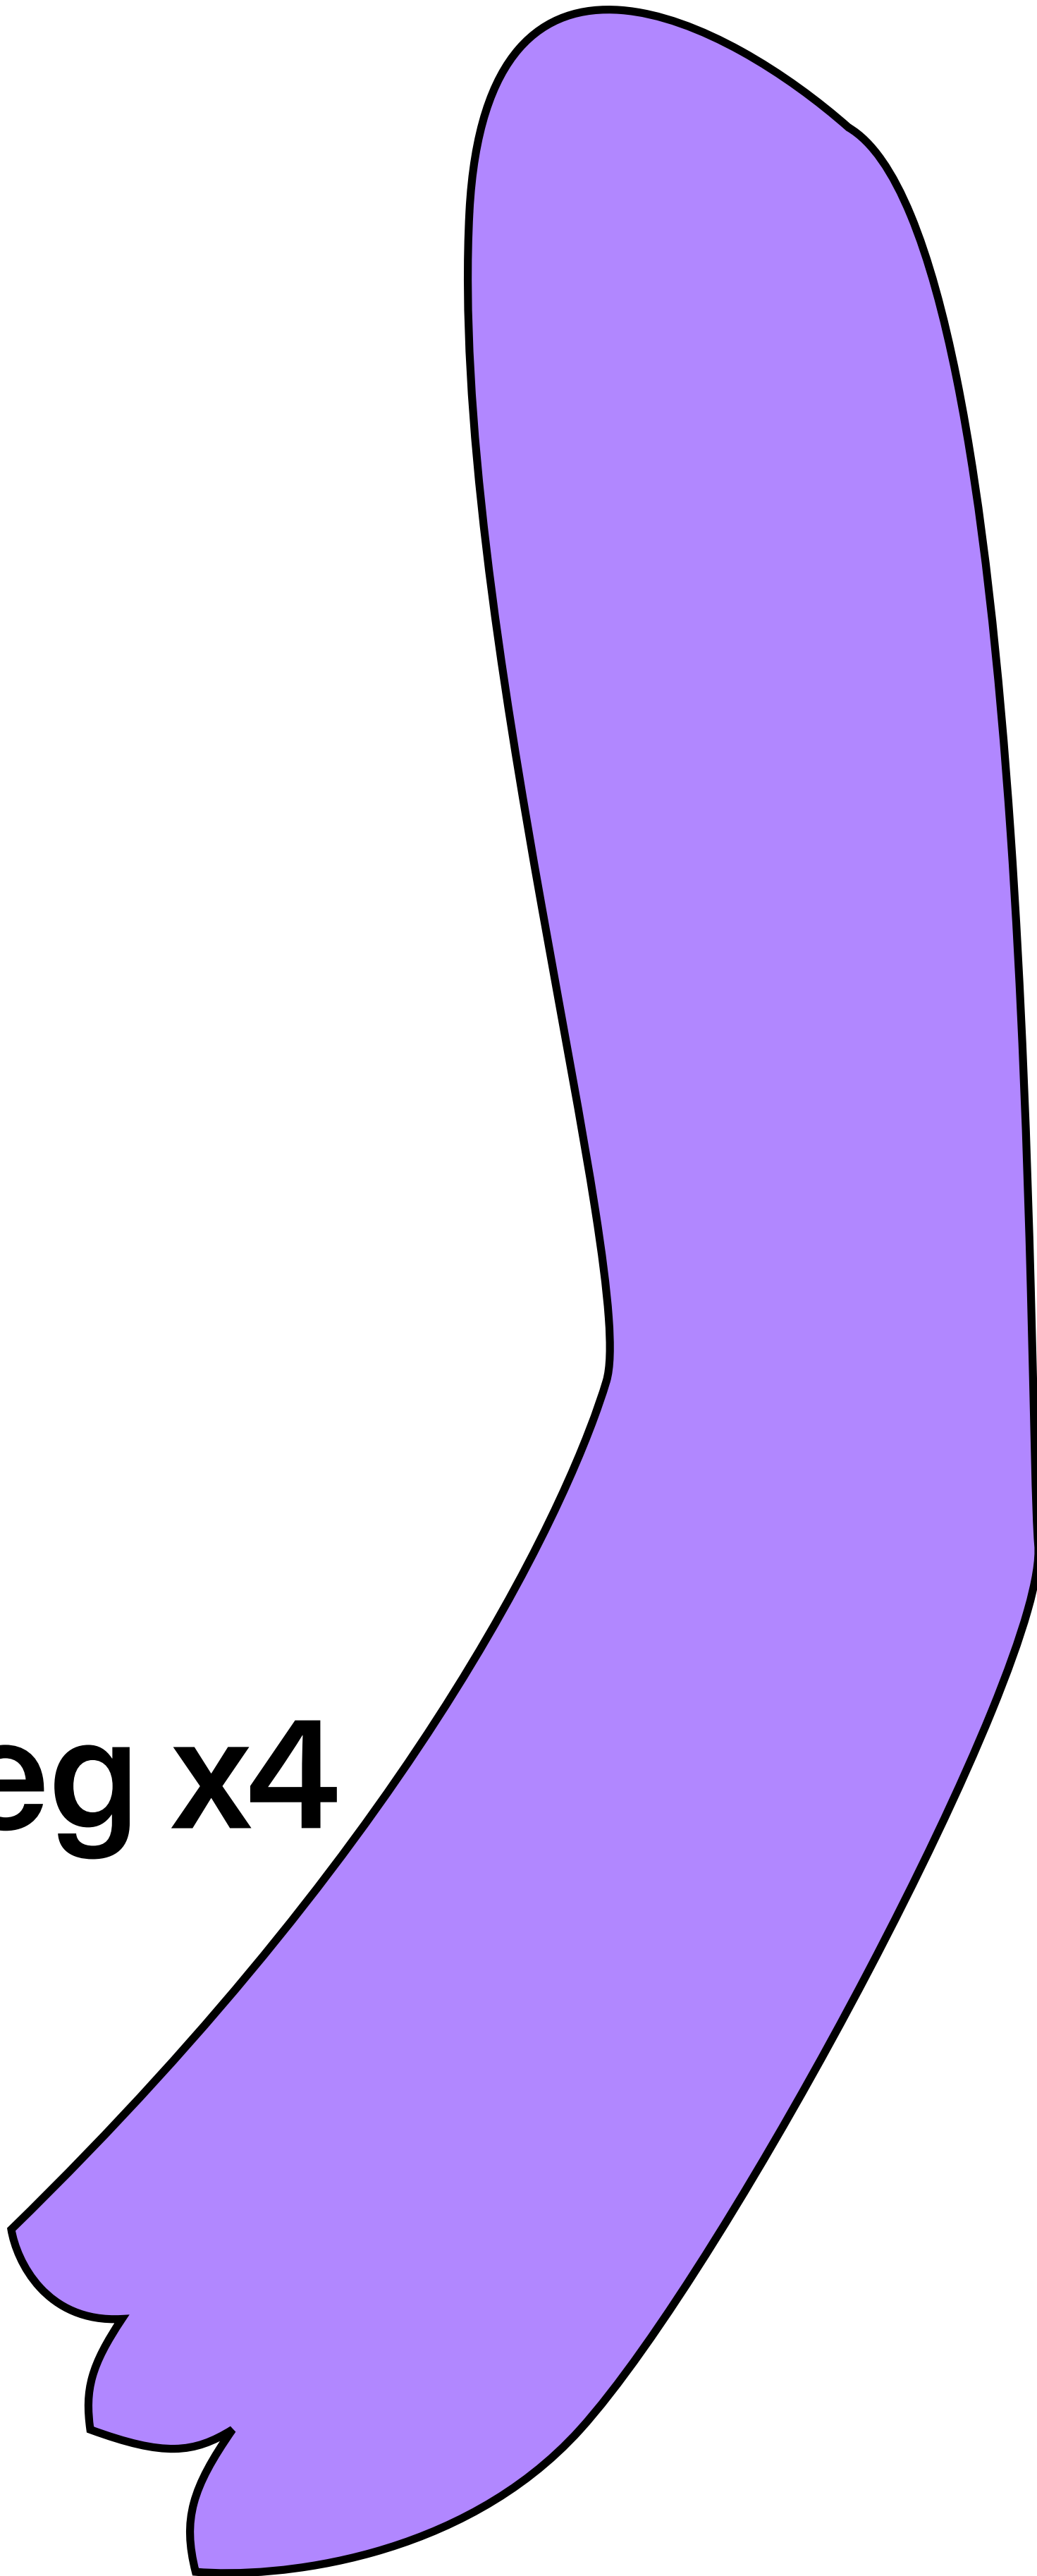

Tail x2

Spike x8

Arm x4

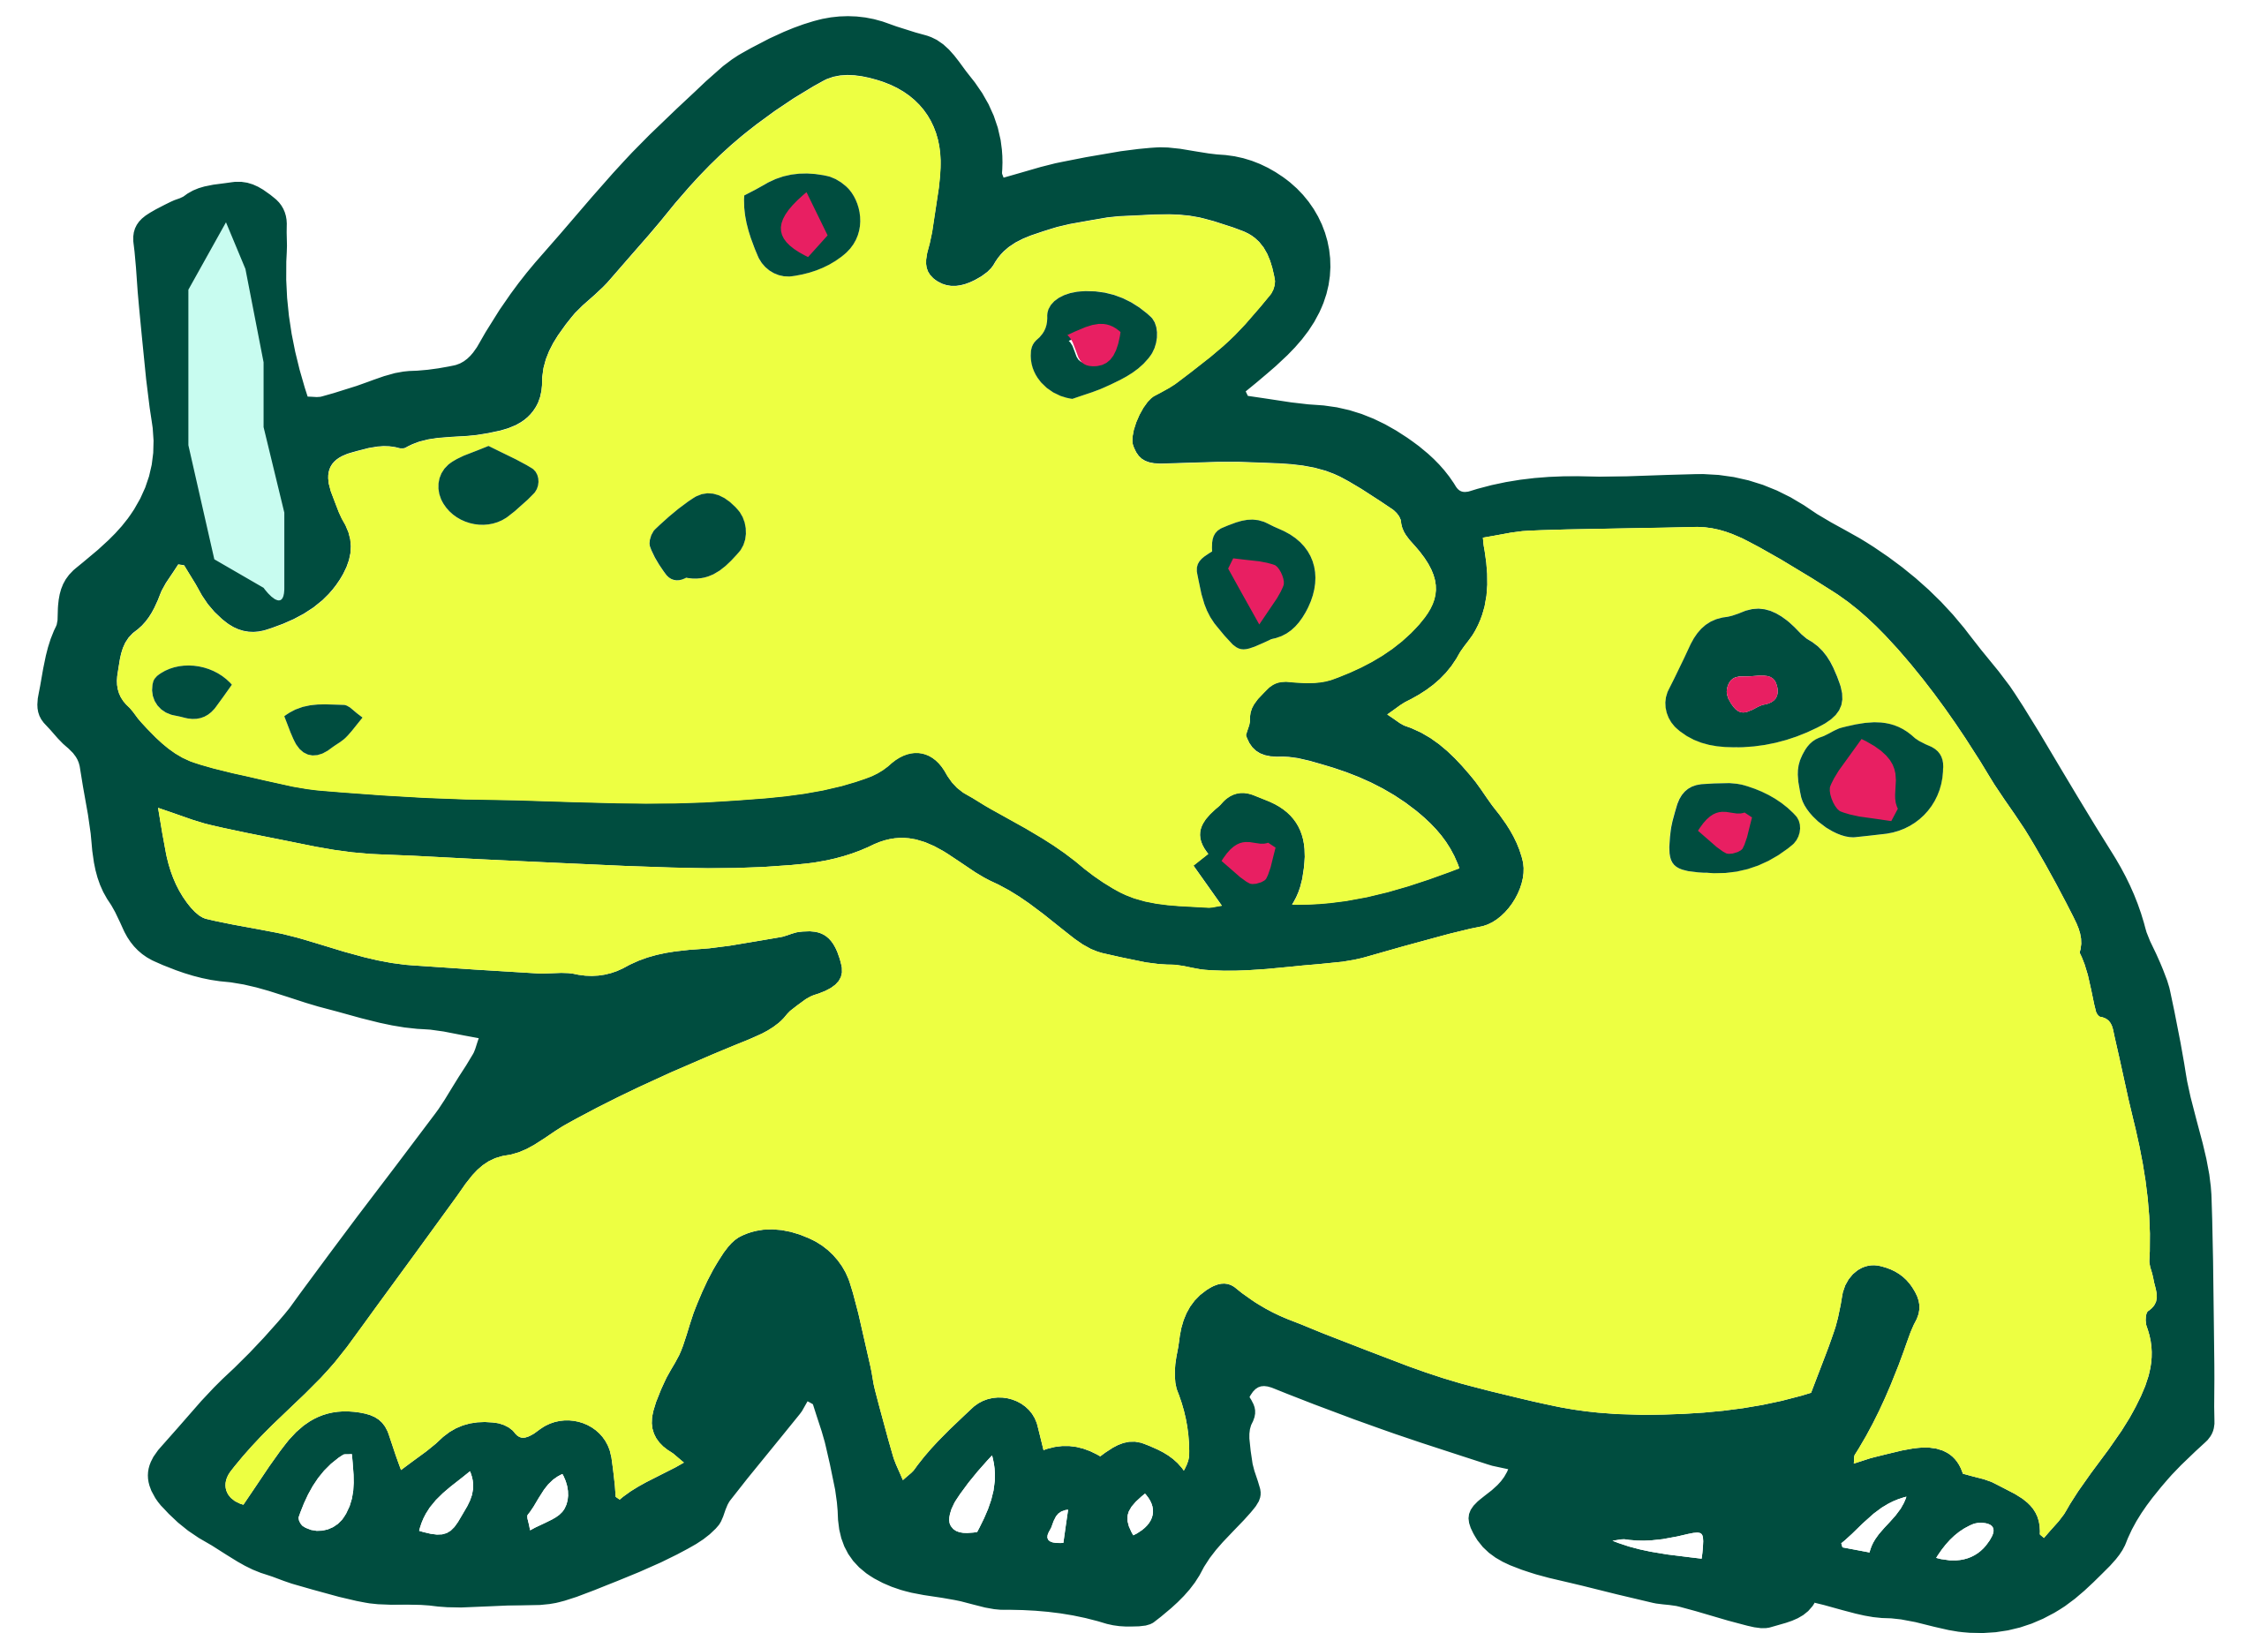

Leg x4

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

PABLO

You will need:

1 8x12 piece of yellow craft felt	Thread
1 8x12 piece of green craft felt	Sewing needle
1 8x12 piece of white craft felt	Stuffing
1 8x12 piece of pink craft felt

1. Trace your pattern pieces with a marker, pen, or chalk onto an 8x12 sheet of craft felt. Each pattern piece will need to be traced twice, so there should be a front and a back for each. Pablo has spots, a horn, and toes, so make sure you have a bit of fabric in a second, third, and fourth color to cut out the extra shapes.

2. Face the two sides of each pattern piece together and sew along the edge with a whip stitch, going through both pieces of felt and around the edge back to the side you started on. Here's a handy tutorial!

<https://www.funclothingcrafts.com/all-posts/how-to-whipstitch>

Continue this stitch all the way around the pattern piece. If you want to stuff your dinosaur, be sure to leave a 1-to-2-inch gap before sewing the pattern piece closed. Tie your thread in a knot and snip the remaining thread. Repeat this for each pattern piece. You should end up with a head, torso, and 4 legs.

3. Before attaching the pieces together, sew all the markings on your dinosaur. These pieces are called "appliques." Pablo has 1 horn, 7 spots, and 10 toes. Cut 2 horns from the first color felt and 14 spots from the third color. Pablo has 3 toes on each of his front feet and 2 toes on each of his back feet, all on the front pattern piece of his foot. Sew Pablo's horn, spots, and toes onto the pattern pieces with the same stitch you used to sew your pattern pieces together, following along the edge of the applique.

4. Once every head, torso, and leg has been sewn and stuffed you'll stitch the pieces together with an "X." Start on the backside of the piece you're attaching to the other, making sure the knot sits between the two pieces. Pass the needle back and forth a few times through both pattern pieces, making a nice solid dash to form the first half of the "X." Now sew another dash, making sure to cross the first dash, creating an "X." Just like you started between the two pattern pieces, you'll want to tie the finishing knot the same way, between the two pieces so it is hidden. Once the knot is tied, snip off the extra thread.

5. Our dino is almost complete, but Frankie needs to see and smile! The last step is to sew him two eyes on the front of his head. From a small piece of dark fabric (I used black) cut out two circles for his eyes and a goofy smile. Same as the other appliques, sew around the edge of the applique until the fabric is attached to the pattern piece. Once his eyes and mouth are attached he's all done!

Summer Reading Dino Plushie Patterns

PABLO

